23rd NATIONAL BASQUE FESTIVAL JULY 4, 5 & 6, 1986 ELKO, NEVADA

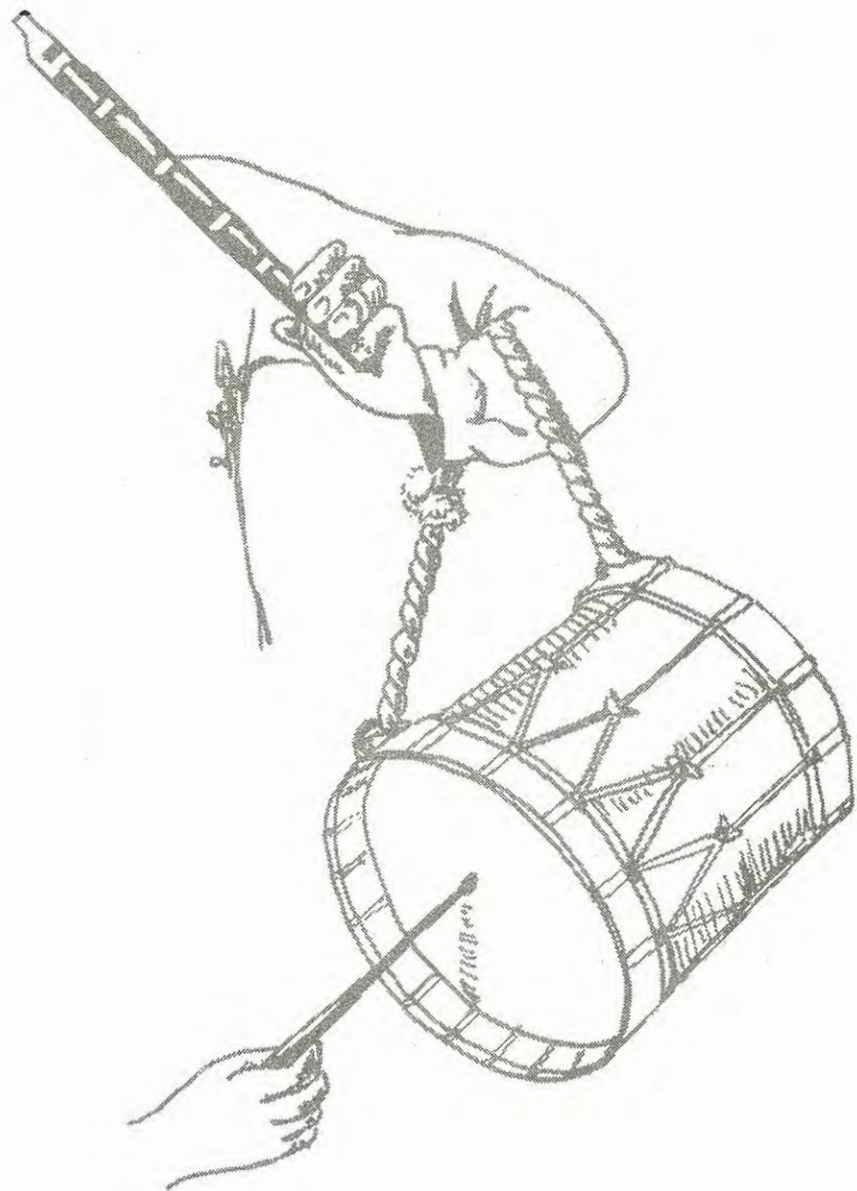

The Lau Buru is a favorite symbol of the Basques with origins unknown. Lau Buru translated means "four heads". The design is similar to a swastika which in ancient times was used as a symbol of good luck or well being. The Lau Buru is found throughout the Basque country on church or home entrances and on tombstones.

The colors of red, white and green are the colors of the Basque flag.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome to the 23rd National Basque Festival. Each year we work to make our festival a success. Planning started last year, hours have been put in by countless individuals. Yet the success of our festival is dependant on our visitors. The people who come to Elko to participate in and enjoy our festival make our work worthwhile and makes the National Basque Festival successful year after year.

I would like to pay tribute to one man who has touched all our lives during his years in our Basque community. Father Jean Cachenaute has given freely to us during the past eight years. I know he will be missed and wish him much happiness as he returns to the Basque country.

I close by saying thank you to the workers, organizations and businesses involved in putting on the National Basque Festival and a special thanks to all of our visitors.

Ramon Zugazaga

HOLY MASS CELEBRATED BY FATHER JEAN CACHENAUT

Father Jean Cachenaute celebrates an open air Holy Mass in the City Park in memory of our recent deceased Elko Euzkaldunak Club members and for all Basques that came from their Basque Homeland and carried the Basque traditions on in the United States. Father Cachenaute will be leaving the U.S. this year and the Elko Basque community thanks him for his care and concern which has been so graciously given.
