Letter from the President

Welcome friends, young and old, to the 46th National Basque Festival!

The 4th of July is an important date in our nation's history and we are honored to celebrate our Basque heritage in conjunction with America's Independence Day. Please join me in honoring our servicemen and women, past and present, who willingly place themselves in harm's way to fight this global war to promote freedom for all people.

I also want to give a special thanks to the many volunteers who give their time and dedication to ensure the success of this festival each year.

The Basque Club extends our appreciation to the many businesses whose financial support makes this important cultural event possible.

Again, I offer you a warm welcome and invite you to participate in all of the events at the 46th National Basque Festival.

Grand Marshall of the 46th Annual National Basque Festival

For more than 40 years, the Elko Ariñak Basque Dancers have entertained audiences at Elko's National Basque Festival, special community events as well as many regional Basque gatherings. The word "Ariñak" means "fast feet." Children begin dancing as early as age four and continue through adulthood. Lessons begin each year in March and continue through the festival in July. Currently, approximately 70 dancers participate in the program. Traditional Basque dance is just one way that our Basque youth contribute to the preservation of this unique culture.

The Elko Euzkaldunak Club is honored to feature the Elko Ariñak Basque Dancers as this year's parade Grand Marshalls. We extend our appreciation to the numerous instructors and dancers who have participated over the years.

BILTÓKI

"The Gathering Place"

Ramon Zugazaga arrived in Elko May 15, 1965, under contract with the Holland Ranch, the same outfit his father had worked on between 1919 and 1927 and where his brother was then employed. Employees often told their employers of relatives or friends who were interested in coming over to work; employers had a source of reliable workers and the new employees benefitted from having friends or relatives help them adjust to their new surroundings.

Ramon summered with the sheep just west of Jarbridge and then trailed them to their winter range south of Ely (300 miles). In the spring, the trip was reversed with the sheep arriving at the Home Ranch for shearing and lambing in May. After five years on the ranch, Ramon went to work at the Star Hotel, where he cooked until 1978. In 1981, he opened the Biltoki in Gooding, Idaho. Ramon moved the Biltoki to Elko in November of 1983. This property was originally called the Corner Bar and was operated by Maria and Antonio Jaurgui for many years. The bar and a small rental house next to it were combined to form the present building, which was a pizza parlor prior to Ramon's occupancy. Ramon grew up around his mother's restaurant, which is still run by his sister in Gernika, Vizcaya. Many of the dishes found on the Biltoki special board were learned at his mother's side. Biltoki's family style method of serving originated in the Basque Hotels with the strong ranch influence dictating the use of much beef and lamb.

Ramon Zugazaga is proud to carry on the Basque traditions in the American West.

Intermountain Sheep Dog

Intermountain Sheep Dog Exhibition

Don Couch got his start in trialing in 1994 when he bought his first Border Collie. He just needed a ranch dog. He never planned on being a trialer. This was Kate, and the following year, Don would move on to become a USBCHA open handler and compete for his first of many National Finals. He is currently qualified for the 2009 National Finals with his dog, Ali.

Don has enjoyed quite a bit of success on the trial field, including his most recent wins at the Idaho State Fair Trial and his top five placings at the Sleddin' & Sheddin' trial, Brrr Bones and Big Willow trials.

When asked what his most memorable trial experience to date has been, he'll tell you about his very first nursery National Finals trial in Sheridan, Wyoming. He took 6th the first day and washed out the second, but it was an experience he'll never forget.

In addition to trialing, Don specializes in starting young dogs and novice handlers. His approach has always been one of common sense. Don's aim is a dog that thinks for itself with some gentle guidance from the handler. Even taking away the trialing aspect, Don believes a good ranch dog needs to be biddable and independent without being mechanical. "If you have a dog that listens well and works well on their own, you've got yourself a good one. The rest is pretty moldable."

One thing that sticks out in Don's mind from a piece of advice given to him from Jack Knox - only correct the wrong. He applies this concept to his personal life, as well as when he is working dogs.

The advice he gives to novice handlers: "Help your dog and have fun - in that order. You'll have a much better trial experience if you help your dog. At all costs and at all levels. Don't sacrifice the dog because of the trial."

Don Couch lives in Southwest Idaho with his wife, Dawn Marie. He currently works for a local animal health specialist in sales/management. He runs a Black Angus commercial herd, a 100-ewe Dorper/Katahdin sheep flock and raises alfalfa hay on a 90-acre spread in Caldwell. He is on the Big Willow trial committee, hosts the Brrr Bones trial annually and is responsible for putting on the Western Idaho State Fair Trial at the fairgrounds in Boise.

Don is available for lessons and clinics and also takes in dogs for training.

Much has been written about the Basque Hotels and their connection to newly arrived young Basque sheepherders. As important as those hotels were to the young sheepherders the successful transition, from the Old Country farm and its limited acreage, to the vastness that is the High Desert of Northeastern Nevada, depended on having the right personal outfit. For those herders that came to Elko, that important outfit came from Anacabe's Elko General Merchandise.

Joe Anacabe opened his Elko General Merchandise Company in 1937. Joe had 20 years of experience with the seasonal climate of this part of the High Desert (it has snowed on the 4th of July), having ranched and owned a store in McDermitt, Nevada, before coming to Elko.

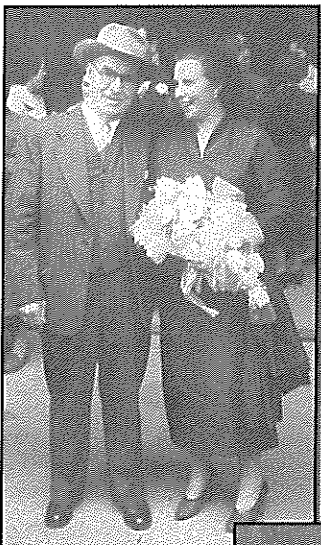

Jess Lopategui recalls his first contract to herd sheep out of Elko and how important his first visit to Anacabe's store was to his success in dealing with the extremes of Nevada weather. He says that he and his camp tender were warmly greeted. Mr. Anacabe began to lay out what he knew would be needed. With a few questions about sizes, the following items were offered:

Bed Canvas
Cot
Five Blankets
One Pair Heavy Boots
One Pair Lighter Weight Boots
Overshoes

Six Pairs Heavy Socks
Long Underwear
Two Pairs of Levis'
Heavy Coat
Levi Jacket
Two Heavy Shirts

Rain Pants & Coat
Heavy Leather Cap with Flaps
Straw Hat
Sun Glasses
Small Metal Box for Toiletry Items
One Large Canvas Sack to Pack Everything Into

After all that was stored in the canvas bag, the bed rolled and tied, Mr. Anacabe then put the bill aside to be paid when Jess came back to town in 11 or 12 months. Mr. Anacabe then gave Jess a new knife and a handshake sealed the deal... "My outfit came to about $130, and over those first months I was grateful and thankful because every item that Mr. Anacabe recommended was exactly what I needed.

Joe Anacabe and his first wife, Fabiana, and their son, Frank, ran the store until Fabiana's death in 1952. Joe went back to the Basque country, where he met and married Margaret Olabe in 1953. Their only child, a daughter, Anita Teresa, was born in 1954.

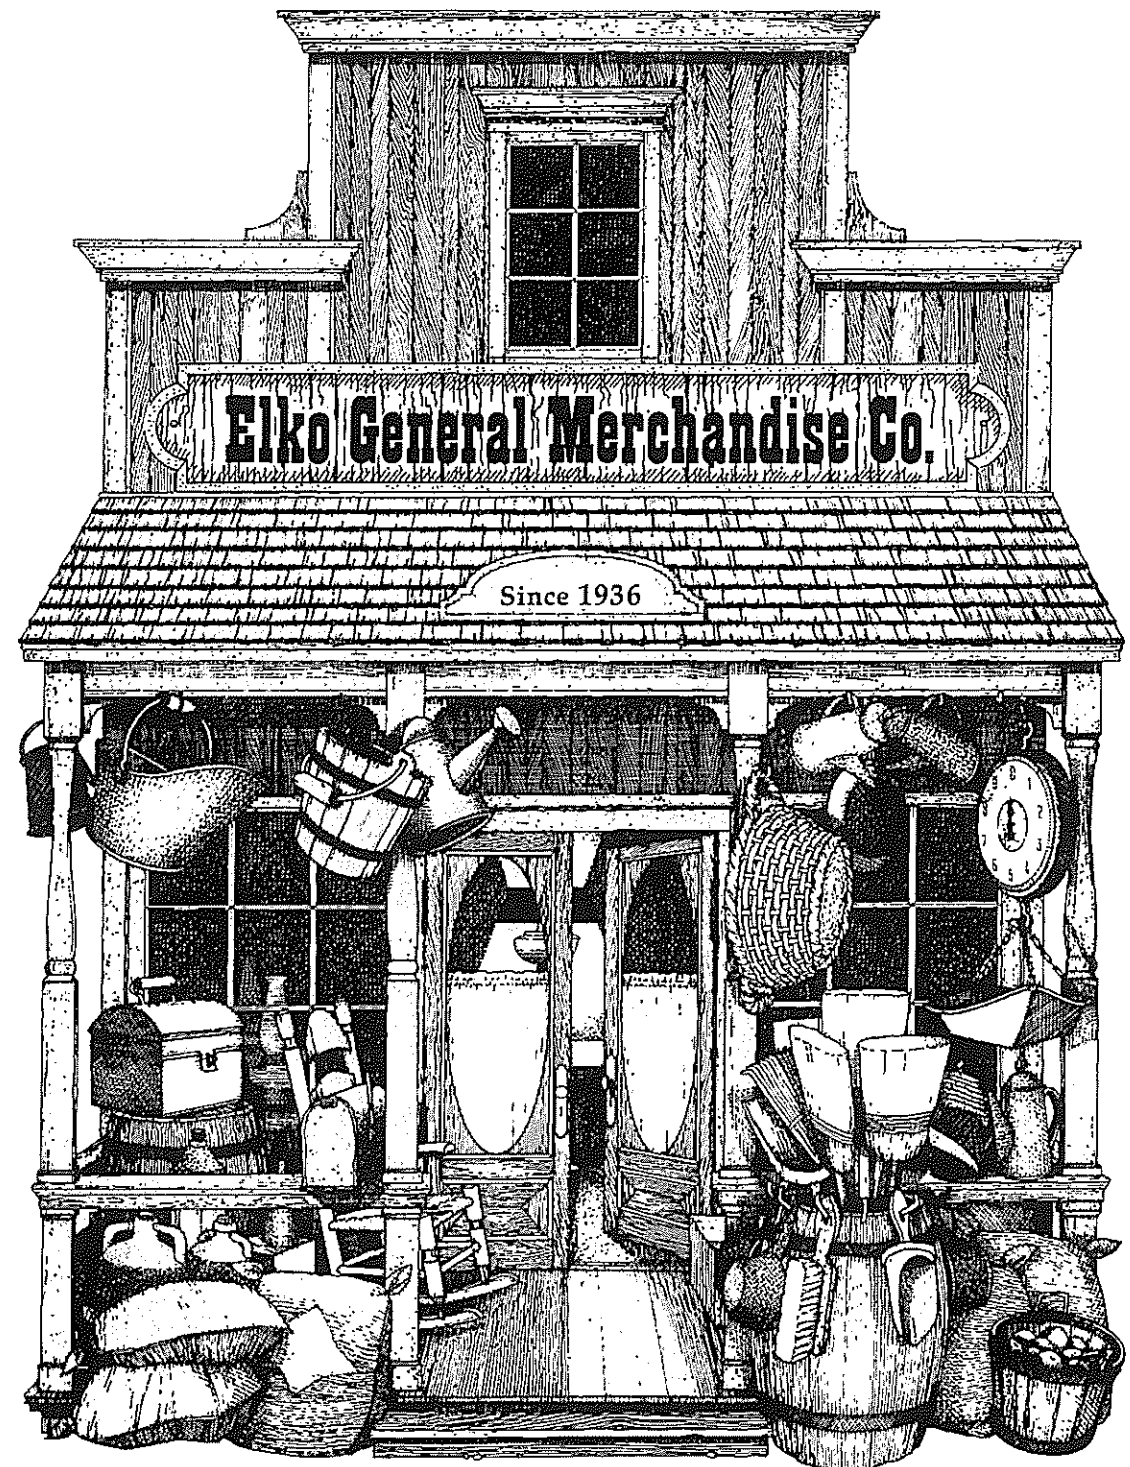

Anita Teresa Franzoia now runs the store, which still offers quality items and a good fit without unreasonable markups.
