President's Message

Welcome to the 37th National Basque Festival. I would like to thank everyone who has worked with the board to put our celebration together. Community sponsors and many volunteers working together make our festival happen.

Basques have many proud traditions: dancing, handball, eating, weightlifting, wood chopping, and authentic music. These are the traditions which most associate with Basques. There is one more proud Basque tradition, working together to get a job done. As we "Celebrate old traditions in a new millennium," remember the tradition that makes this festival possible, working together, pitching in to help a friend when they ask.

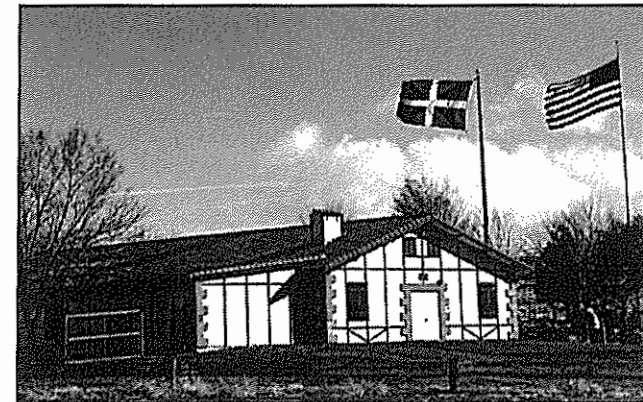

Have Fun!! Enjoy old Friends!! Support our sponsors!!
Thank you for coming!!

“Before God was God and boulders were boulders, the Basques were already Basques.”

There is no shortage of theories that seek to explain the origins of the Basques, western Europe's mystery people. They range from the incredulous (that Basques are the survivors of the lost people of Atlantis, the fabled land that sunk into the sea) the mythical (that Basques are descendants of the mythical Aitor, the first Basque man) the pre-historic (Basques descended from the Stone Age, proponents pointing to Basque words for tools that all incorporate stone) the expansive (purported links with other distant languages) to the probable (Basques are descendants of the Iberians, people who once inhabited Spain).

Euskal Herria

The Basques defined themselves as Euskaldunak those who speak Basque and their homeland Euskal Herria land of the Basques. Their homeland was claimed by the emerging nation-states of Spain and France. There are seven provinces that make up what is today considered the Basque country. Four are in Spain and three are in France. This legacy dates from the Treaty of the Pyrennes in 1659. By: John M. Yursa

Spring Creek High School Travels to Euskal Herria

The Spring Creek Music Department spent the year 2000 Spring Break by going to Euskal Herria. They were well received in Bilbao, Durango, Lekeitio, Donostia, Zarautz, Baiona, Gernika and Bermeo. The countryside is beautiful, but what everyone was most impressed with was how fabulous the people were. The students took Basque classes and are sending letters and e-mails to maintain contact with the new friends they made while they were there.

Irrintzi Contest Sunday, July 2, 2000 3:30 pm at the Elko City Park

Basques are known for their culture. The Irrintzi is originally a war cry. Now the Basques have turned this form of protection into a competition, trying to preserve this culture and keep this tradition alive. The Irrintzi yell is a long wavering yell a cross of a laugh, a shriek and a horse's neigh. The Irrintzi will send chills up your spine.

Sunday July 2, 2000
37th National Basque Festival
Continues at 2:00 p.m. in the Elko City Park

Relax in the park after having a delicious meal, watch as invited groups entertain you with authentic dancing from all the different provinces from the Basque Country. You will see dance groups such as the Elko "Arinak" Dancers which range from as little as 5 years old to 18 years of age. Then be amazed as you watch "Beti Egarrri" perform. You will be delighted to see that the fun doesn't stop at 18 when Elko's Adult Dancers show their skill and love for the dance. "Beti Egarrri's" dancers range from ages 21 to well, you're never too old to dance. There are many more dance groups still to perform. Groups from all over the west. Battle Mountain Dancers, the Salt Lake "Triskalari" Dancers, and many more groups.
