Community College Readies for Fall Term

Everything from English and mathematics to embroidery and volleyball is scheduled for fall session classes to be offered by the Winnemucca Center of Northern Nevada Community College.

According to Mrs. Lois Craver, coordinator, most classes are scheduled and registration will be held Aug. 30 through Sept. 3, at the Center's office at 630 Melarky St. Area adults, 18 years and older are eligible to enroll in one or more of the 38 night courses presently scheduled to be held at Lowry High School and the National Guard Armory.

Students enroll in the center's courses in order to learn or upgrade occupational skills, as well as to obtain credits toward a college degree, Mrs. Craver said. "Some students enroll simply for the personal satisfaction to be gained in exploring new fields."

The Winnemucca Center is an extension of Northern Nevada Community College, one of three Nevada community colleges, with its main campus in Elko. The college offers programs through several centers in a 33,000 square mile area which includes Humboldt, Eureka, Lander, and White Pine counties.

Soon to begin its sixth year, the college received its full accreditation from the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges in June of 1974.

Types of courses to be offered this fall in Winnemucca include:

— University Parallel courses (credit transferable to a four-year university) include composition and rhetoric, physical geology, beginning and intermediate drawing and design, introduction to philosophy, children's literature, introduction to Shakespeare, Indians of North America, American Society, principles of American constitutional government, general psychology, principles of child guidance, practicum with children, and volleyball;

— Occupational courses, including career Spanish, office practice, typing (advanced and statistical), shorthand, beginning and advanced photography, cooperative education and work experience (in business, law enforcement, and corrections), basic ground school for pilots, juvenile justice systems, juvenile courts and procedures, audio visual for library, and printing-lithograph;

— Community service courses in psychology and the family; knit stitchery and machine embroidery, arts and crafts, beginning silversmithing, design and construction of metal jewelry, know your Bible, sign language for the deaf, and auto mechanics for women;

— Developmental courses in English grammar and usage and in general mathematics are offered as preparatory courses for those adults wishing to obtain a high school diploma by taking the G.E.D. (General Education Development) Tests.

Non-scheduled courses are also offered, Mrs. Craver said, as a result of local interest shown by a minimum of 10 students in a specific course.

According to Mrs. Craver, there are four types of goals which can be obtained through the community college program. These include obtaining an associate of arts degree, an associate in applied science degree, an associate in general studies degree, or a certificate of achievement in occupational programs.

Two requirements in obtaining degrees or certification are political science 103, and English 101. All other courses are electives or majors, she said. However, an adult interested in any of the classes may enroll even without a high school diploma providing they don't plan to work toward a degree. High school seniors who carry a B average may also enroll if they provide a letter of consent from their high school principal.

Financial aids are available to students and include a national direct student loan, guaranteed student loan program, and basic educational opportunity grant (leased on financial need.)

Further information about courses available, registration, fees, and financial aids can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Craver at the Winnemucca Center Office, or by contacting her at 623-3824.

Graduation Scheduled On Friday

The Northern Nevada Community College's School of Nursing, under the direction of Delna Day RN, will hold its 1976 graduation exercises Friday at 7 p.m. in the library of the Learning Resources Building at 901 Elm Street.

1976 graduates are Willy Ableman, Lisa Austin, Jim Holdren, Bev MacKay, Pat McMasters, Marjori Mariluch, Maureen Ortman, Judy Stramel and Carol Turney.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE Coordinator Lois Craver (1) discusses courses scheduled for fall semester in Winnemucca with Judy Williams, instructor in the adult basic education program towards G.E.D. certification.

New Faculty at College, Vet's Coordinator Named

The hiring of two new faculty member, a new veterans' coordinator and a change in responsibilities for a current instructor at Northern Nevada Community College were announced by an NNCC spokesman this week.

The new faculty members are Charles Roberts, 38, who will conduct the electronics technology program, and James Lucas, 30, who will be an instructor in agriculture.

Dick Meyers, retired from the Navy after serving 24 years, is the new veterans' coordinator. He is also a part time student at the college.

Directing the cooperative education service, financed by a one-year grant from the federal government, is Stan Aiazzi, who has been an agriculture instructor.

Roberts has 12 years experience in electronics maintenance, repair, installation and checkout, and research and development. He has worked for General Dynamics, Corp. and was a communications technician for three years in the Navy.

He earned an Associate in Science degree from Sheridan College, Wyoming, and a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Wyoming. He comes to NNCC from Central Wyoming College, where he has been an electronics instructor since 1972.

Lucas formerly worked for Jensen-Salsbery Laboratories in Fresno, Calif., where he was a veterinary liaison representative specializing in health management and preventive medicine for feedlots and dairies.

He has also worked as a fireman of a cattle ranch in Northwestern Montana.

Lucas holds a B.S. degree in animal husbandry from the University of California, Davis, and an M.S. degree in animal nutrition from California State, Fresno.

Meyers, originally from Las Vegas, said he served "all over" while in the Navy, but was stationed on the west coast most of the time.

Aiazzi, now in his sixth year at NNCC, earned his B.S. degree in agriculture education and his M.S. degree in agriculture economics from the University of Nevada, Reno. He was born in Carlin and went to high school in Eureka.

Geology Class Should Interest Prospectors

Geology 101, Physical Geology, will be offered on Wednesday evenings this fall semester at the Winnemucca Center of Northern Nevada Community College. The instructor is James Park.

An introductory course, activities will consist of lecture, laboratory, and field trip activities. The class will cover a wide range of interests from rock and mineral identification to topographic map interpretation.

Considerable attention will be given to geological formations of North Central Nevada.

The three-credit class will count toward completion of the science requirement of the associate degree programs of the college. According to Park, class activities should also be of interest to weekend prospectors.

The instructor is a geology graduate of Western Washington State College and has studied geology at Arizona State University.

NNCC Registration Starts Here Sept. 1

Registration for credit classes at Northern Nevada Community College will be held Sept. 1-3 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. One evening enrollment period is slated for Wednesday, Sept. 1 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Students wishing to enroll should file their applications as soon as possible.

The college will offer full schedules of basic freshman-sophomore academic courses that transfer to four-year colleges and universities.

The college will also offer ten different career field programs that train students for employment in the labor market after the completion of the one to two-year programs.

Community service classes, intended to meet the personal, vocational and avocational needs of students, are also carried on the fall schedule, but many will be added throughout the semester.

Faculty advisement with students begins Aug. 28. Advisement will aid the student in developing a degree plan, choosing the appropriate courses and adopting suitable study skills and methods. A list of assigned advisors is available at the Student Services Office.

Applications for the Max Fleischmann Foundation scholarships will be accepted through Sept. 1, according to the Student Services Office.

The scholarships are meant to encourage and assist students who are enrolled in an occupational service program.

Five Fleischmann scholarships are available at NNCC. Payments are made directly from the Foundation to NNCC for the benefit of qualifying students — $250 for the first semester and $250 for the second semester.

Funds may be used for tuition and fees, books and school supplies, living subsistence, and transportation.

Only full-time students enrolled in an occupational service program are eligible for the scholarship funds. To qualify, a student must be a Nevada resident, as defined by the University of Nevada System.

Financial need shall be considered in scholarship awards, but need is not a requisite.

Applications may be obtained at the NNCC Student Services Office.

NNCC Kit-Building Class To Be Offered

Charles Roberts, a newcomer to Northern Nevada Community College faculty with a degree in electronics, is offering an unusual community service course during the alternate fall semester. Catalogued as ET 100C, the class will concentrate on kit building.

Roberts, who has previously taught similar classes, states even small children have successfully completed expensive Heathkits. He terms it an excellent way to while away the long winter nights and noted kit building may be profitable as well. He said he has several catalogues from which to order kits including the Heathkits, radio-controlled airplanes, TV sets and electronics games. He said kit building is open to the imagination with no limitations on electronics creativity.

The new instructor, who is assisted by an electronics technician, invited those who have been apprehensive about beginning such a project on their own to join the class which begins Nov. 2 and meets from 7 to 10 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

Registration fee is set at $21 with a nominal fee for tools depending upon the needs of the kit selected, Roberts said, pointing out trouble-shooting electronics equipment will be available for use at NNCC.

Enrollment for the alternate fall semester begins Oct. 27 and Roberts urged those interested in this special course to enroll early and see him about ordering a kit.

New Staff Member At NYTC

Thomas O. Towle Jr. has been assigned as the new psychologist at the Nevada Youth Training Center, according to Ed Burgess, superintendent.

Dr. Towle, 38, is a native of Bakersfield, Calif., and a graduate of the University of Nevada, Reno. He received his master degree in psychology from the University of Montana and his doctor's degree at the University of Nebraska.

He transferred to NYTC from a position as associate professor of psychology at Black Hills State College in Spearfish, S.D. He served in the U.S. Army from 1961 to 1963 and played on the All-Army baseball team. During recent years he has held several positions in the Midwest and is licensed as a psychologist in Minnesota, Nebraska and South Dakota.

Dr. Towle is married and has three children — Randy, 8; Bradley, 6; and Kristen, 4. His wife, Sylvia, will be employed as a dance instructor at Northern Nevada Community College.

College Faculty At Meet

The full professional personnel staff of Nevada's Community Colleges meets today in an annual one-day workshop at Clark County Community College in Las Vegas.

Faculty members and administrators were scheduled to hear a report from Dr. Charles Donnelly, president of the Community College Division, then, to meet in business and professional workshop sessions, with the faculty divided into seven groups by area of instruction.

"A similar meeting in Reno a year ago produced a useful exchange of ideas and experiences among faculty and administrators of the three colleges," Dr. Donnelly said Friday. "We expect this year's day together to be even more productive."

The group will tour the newly completed Phase II and the nearly completed Phase III of Clark County's new community college building.

In addition to the Donnelly report, Dr. Anthony Calabro, administrative assistant to the president, will conduct a curriculum discussion for the entire group and Leon Van Doren, personnel director for the Community College Division, will present new information on personnel matters.

NNCC Test Scheduled Saturday

The next testing date for the Career Planning Profile (CPP) is scheduled for Saturday, September 18. It will be held in the Voc-Tech building commencing at 8 a.m. and ending at 12 noon. There is a fee of $5.75 for this test.

The examination is not given to screen out or reject students, as there is no possible way to fail the examination, a College spokesman said, noting the purpose of the examination is to provide better program and career guidance for the College's students.

The CPP is an admission requirement for the Nursing and Business program.

Students in other programs may take the test to aid them in vocational placement. Persons can contact the Student Services Office if they have any further questions.

National Guard Will Pay 50% of College Tuition

The Nevada National Guard will pay one-half of the consolidated fees at the University of Nevada for qualified members of the Guard.

New members of the Guard are also eligible to participate in the program. Students at the Winnemucca campus of the Northern Nevada Community College are eligible to receive the benefits of the program if they enlist in the Guard.

This would be in addition to any Veterans Administration benefits. The Guard also has available a full-time $20,000 life insurance policy at a nominal premium, a minimum of $50 a month extra income, and opportunities for increasing income and training experience.

If you are planning on attending the University of Nevada or the Winnemucca campus of the Northern Nevada Community College, the National Guard invites you to investigate the program. For further information call 623-2371.

College Registration Now Under Way Here

Registration for the fall semester at Northern Nevada Community College began this morning at 8 a.m. and will continue until 5 p.m. this evening.

There also will be an evening registration session from 6 to 9 p.m.

Among the many classes appearing on the list of offerings are several unique courses, including Indians of North America, Observational Astronomy, Investments, Football Seminar for Women, College Singers and Creative Cooking.

Shelley Hanna is the instructor of Indians of North America, a three-credit anthropology class scheduled for Tuesday evenings.

The class will deal mostly with Indians of the American West and a major objective of the class will be to place North American Indians in objective historical perspective.

Moyal Kump is the instructor for Football Seminar for Women, a course which an NNCC press release said might more appropriately be titled "sports spectatorism for the non-athlete."

The class, which is one credit, will deal with an analysis of types of plays, formations, coaching techniques, terminologies and player strategies.

Observational Astronomy, taught by Tom Ross, will introduce students to the members of the solar system, such as planets, comets, meteors, the sun and the moon.

The class also will discuss such topics as infrared, ultraviolet and X-ray radiation.

The course Investments will be taught by Richard Rose.

In addition to giving students an introduction to the operation of the New York Stock Exchange and reading technical information in financial journals, each student will simulate investment activities by designing a $10,000 portfolio of stocks.

College Singers, a one-credit university transfer course, will be taught by Nada Joy Larson and will emphasize singing, although individuals will have the opportunity to learn to read chorus music.

Mrs. Larson said the class will include early church music, spirituals and novelty selections as well as pop music.

Nancy Hedrick is the instructor for Creative Cooking and will teach students a wide variety of cooking styles ranging from sourdough to haute cuisine.

A variety of cooking techniques and recipes will be included. Sept. 1, 76

Forum In Elko Saturday

Saturday's "Nevada Women in Politics" forum, sponsored by the Northern Nevada Community College Campus Women and funded by the Nevada Humanities Committee, is scheduled to get underway at 9 a.m. at Stockmen's Motor Hotel.

A spokesman for the organizing committee said that Anna Kirkendall, secretary-treasurer of the Elko TV District, will replace Dorothy Gallagher in a panel discussion.

The spokesman also said the Nevada Humanities Committee encourages application for grants from any public organization. NHC grants are intended to promote discussion of public issues bringing together humanities professors and representatives of public agencies.

Principal speakers at Saturday's forum are Jean Ford of the State Assembly, Mary Gojack of the State Senate, and Eleanore Bushnell, University of Nevada, Reno, professor.

AMONG THE SPEAKERS AT Saturday's "Nevada Women in Politics" forum to be held at Stockmen's Motor Hotel will be Jean Ford (left) of the State Assembly and Mary Gojack of the State Senate. The forum will examine the history and role of women in Nevada politics and women officeholders will tell of some of the problems they face. The forum is scheduled to get under way at 9 a.m. Eleanore Bushnell of the University of Nevada, Reno, also is scheduled to make a presentation.

Auditorium Workshop Saturday

"The Plan and the Facts," a 20-minute slide show with narration, will highlight the informational workshop on the proposed Elko auditorium-convention center to be held at the Northern Nevada Community College library Saturday morning.

The workshop is for persons interested in promoting the civic complex and is scheduled to run from 9 a.m. to noon with a break for coffee and refreshments.

Manuel Birch will open the program with a discussion of the need for the facility and Amy Emerson will give a presentation on the "Beta Project" and how it relates to the promotional campaign for the complex. The Beta Project is a study of Elko completed earlier by the college.

Gene Perry will cover "Strategies for Neighborhood Workers" and a question and answer period is planned to end the session.

The workshop is sponsored jointly by the Advisory Committee to the Civic Auditorium Authority and a citizens' committee for promotion of the project.

NNCC Play Tryouts Sept. 28

Tryouts for the Northern Nevada Community College production of Neil Simon's comedy "Come Blow Your Horn," will be held at 5 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 28, in the college library.

The play, which deals with two brothers attempting to establish lifestyles separate from their father's, is scheduled for presentation in early November, a spokesman said.

Recent NNCC productions have included "The White House," and "Black Comedy."

Auditorium Workshop At College

A workshop to inform all interested citizens about the proposed Elko civic center - auditorium has been set for 9 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 25, at the Northern Nevada Community College library.

Doughnuts and coffee will be served at the meeting which is being sponsored by the City Auditorium Committee.

Subjects to be discussed, according to Manuel Birch of the committee, will include how the civic center will reduce unemployment in Elko; effects of a broadened tax base; how the facility will benefit youth, schools and senior citizens; management and financing of the civic center - auditorium; and future effects of expansion at Jackpot and Wendover.

Everyone interested in obtaining facts about the project is welcome at the workshop, Birch said.

Nevada Women To Hold Forum October 2 ^{Oct. 1, 76}

"Nevada Women In Politics" will hold a forum Saturday, October 2, at the Stockmen's Motor Hotel. Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. and the program will start at 9:00 a.m. and run until 5 p.m. N.N.C.C. Campus Women are sponsoring the forum with funding from the Nevada Humanities Committee. Co-chairpersons for the event are Jewell Hanna and Dorothy Call.

The general program will run as follows: Morning-speeches by State Senator Mary Gojack, Assemblywoman, Jean Ford, and U.N.R. History Professor, Eleanor Bushnell. In the afternoon the were be a panel discussion about women's role in Nevada politics. Paul S. Hanna will be moderator with Snowy Monroe, Anna Kirkendall, Byron Bilyeu, Maria Boies and Carley Sullivan your pane members.

The Nevada Humanities committee grants are intended to promote discussion of public issues in a way that utilizes ideas from the humanities area and brings professors in the Humanities field and representatives from public agencies together with the general public. The N.H.C. encourages applications from any public organization. The National Endowment Committee funds the N.H.C. with humanity gifts.

The public is invites to the forum and there will be no admission charge. Free child care will be offered for children ages 3 yrs. to 8 yrs. at the N.N.C.C. The child should bring a sack lunch. For more information call 738-8493.

Crochet Classes At College ^{Sat. Oct. 2, 76}

Three seven-week courses in crochet will begin at Northern Nevada Community College next week.

A beginning adult crochet class will start Tuesday, Oct. 5, 7-9 p.m. in Room 3 of the V-T building. This course will continue seven weeks and each student will receive one community service credit.

Advanced crochet students will meet Thursday mornings, 9-11, starting Oct. 7 in Room 19 of the Learning Resource Building. The fee will be $5 and one community service credit may be earned.

Also on Thursday, from 4-5 p.m., a children's class will be offered. This class will also be in Room 19 of the LR Building. Students are to be age nine or over the fee is $5.

Sara Christ will instruct the classes and may be contacted for more information at 738-7948.

The crochet classes are offered under the college's Pioneer Arts and Crafts Program and are partially funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, The National Endowment for the Arts, and Northern Nevada Community College.

Winnemucca College Enrollment Shows 25% Gain ^{Oct. 7, 76}

By BONNIE CLARK

The Winnemucca Center of the Northern Nevada Community College reports a total number of 207 students enrolled for the fall semester. According to Coordinator Lois Craver, the number represents a 25 per cent increase over last year's enrollment.

"When the Winnemucca Center opened in 1970," she said, "we had a total of 23 students and three teachers, James Porter, who has been teaching for us all six years, Ervin Erdelt and myself."

This semester, the center has scheduled 19 courses in addition to developmental courses in math and English and G.E.D. preparation, and employs a staff of 21 teachers. An additional community service class in knitting was scheduled to begin yesterday with five students pre-enrolled.

Assistant Coordinator Patsy Ross said the "present enrollment rivals that of the Elko Center, although the Elko Center has a campus and offers day classes, which the Winnemucca Center does not."

"The courses we are offering are not strictly for people who are working toward a degree," Mrs. Craver said. "We have several students registered, mainly in silversmithing, photography, stitchery and art, who are enrolled because they have an interest in a particular subject."

At present there are 53 return students, who are obtaining credits toward a degree. Nineteen veterans are enrolled, five of whom are carrying a full load of four classes, Mrs. Craver said, and two enrolled in five classes. Twenty-four are presently enrolled in community service courses with the remaining students taking college parallel or occupational courses.

"If we were to count separately the number of students in each class, our total enrollment would exceed 400 students," she said.

Those classes recording the greatest number of students this fall are volleyball and knit stitchery, each with 23; photography, 22; aeronautics, 20; Spanish, 18; and silversmithing, 17.

Courses being offered for the first time include anthropology, English, volleyball, knit stitchery, fire science, and G.E.D. preparation.

Mrs. Craver said the center will "find an instructor and make every effort to provide any type of class that a student requests." The only requirement is that a minimum number of 10 students enroll in the class. "Occasionally a community service class will be offered to fewer than 10 students providing arrangements can be made with the instructor."

Persons wishing to inquire about classes to be offered during spring semester may contact Mrs. Craver or Mrs. Ross at the Winnemucca Center Office, 530 Melarkey St., phone 623-3824.

Registration will be held Jan. 4-14, with instruction to begin Jan. 17.

College Enrollment Increases

Highly tentative enrollment figures released by Northern Nevada Community College show an increase of 157 students over the fall semester of a year ago.

There also is an increase in Full Time Equivalent students, the number of which rose from 263.50 to 277.26. The FTE figure is determined by dividing the number of credit hours paid for by 16.

Charles Greenhaw of NNCC said the adult program, the Pioneer Arts and Crafts program and the high school seniors' program, which have about 300, 250-300 and 120 students respectively, are not counted in the figures because these programs are not eligible for state funds.

Greenhaw said the current figures are highly tentative, and predicted about 320 FTE students when fall registration closes on Oct. 29. He also said there probably would be about 1,300 students registered for the fall semester, including all programs.

Biggest increases in enrollment so far are in Ely, which jumped from 11 to 47, and Winnemucca, which increased from 151 to 211.

Greenhaw said enrollment figures might have been higher this year except for a decrease in Comprehensive Employment Training Act funds and veterans' programs funds.

Workshop Scheduled Tomorrow

The third in a series of workshops about the proposed Elko Auditorium - Convention Center entitled "The Plan and the Facts," will be presented at the library building at Northern Nevada Community College tomorrow at 9 a.m.

The workshop is for persons interested in promoting the complex and who are willing to aid in getting the facts to the public, Gene Perry of the Elko Chamber of Commerce Citizen's Committee, said today.

The meeting will be conducted by the Citizen's Committee and the Advisory Committee to the Elko County Auditorium Authority.

The meeting will include further discussion of the fourteen point fact sheet and the center brochure.

Assignments for area coverage by interested walkers will also be discussed, Perry said, noting supplies for distribution will be on hand.

Oct. 22, 76

NNCC Field Trip Scheduled

On Sunday, Oct. 24, the Pioneer Arts and Crafts program at Northern Nevada Community College is sponsoring a historical field trip to Tuscarora, as the first of a series of Historical Ghost Town Tours.

Participants will meet at the community college parking lot, leave at 9 a.m. in private vehicles, and drive to Tuscarora with stops enroute at Adobe Summit and the Dinner Station.

Antoine "Tony" Primeaux will conduct the tour, which will include exploration of the old Freight Wagon Trail, Tuscarora itself, the pottery works, and the mines, both placer and deep pit. As an authority on Tuscarora, he will also discuss the history and answer questions about the area.

Lunch will be served at the Primeaux home in Tuscarora, and the tour will end in time to be back in Elko for dinner.

The cost of $7 per adult covers lunch, and part of a community service credit at NNCC; the completion of a credit or credits depends on participation in other ghost town tours. Children 16 and under will be charged $3 for the cost of the meal.

Interested participants should sign up at the community college, 738-8493, or call Beverly Copley at 738-7948 by Friday, Oct. 22, so that the right amount of food can be prepared.

The program is sponsored by the Northern Nevada Community College and the Nevada State Council on the arts and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Fall Alternate Class Registration Opens

Registration for fall alternate semester classes opened today at Northern Nevada Community College and will continue until 5 p.m. Nov. 2. An evening enrollment period is scheduled for this evening beginning at 7 p.m. at the Student Services Office.

The interim semester, with instruction beginning the week of Nov. 2, will conclude with the opening of the regular spring semester in mid-January.

"This special semester allows late-comers and new-comers an opportunity to begin college without waiting around until spring, and it also provides us with a chance to create special interest classes — things we can't ordinarily do in the regular semesters," said Dr. Charles Greenhaw.

Scheduled for the alternate semester are about 35 classes, including a special class in electronic printing calculators, office practices, business machines, and all levels of typing. Among other classes are probability and statistics, a basic course in minerals and gems for prospectors and rockhounds, and a team leadership class for nurses.

A complete schedule is available at the college.

Greenhaw pointed out that a class in fire science — building construction for fire protection — will be on the schedule. He added that the college plans to resume the fire science program that was discontinued in 1975.

Tickets for Play Now on Sale in Elko

Tickets are now on sale for Northern Nevada Little Theatre's first dinner show and may be purchased at the business office of Northern Nevada Community College or at the Holiday Inn where the production will be staged.

Slated for 6:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6, the curtain will rise immediately following dinner. A choice of two selections on the menu will be offered in a package with the three-act comedy for $14 per couple and $7 for singles.

Starring in Neil Simon's Broadway hit, "Come Blow Your Horn" are Cynthia Arias, Karen Draper, Jon Felker, Ken Harriman, Tammy Robison, Jim Starr and Mable Kite. The show is under the direction of Vicki Rossolo with Elaine Starr as assistant director.

The plot of the farce, according to Mrs. Rossolo, are "the richly-comic complications resulting from the departure of two sons from the family home. The playboy, a 33-year-old bachelor, so impresses his 21-year-old brother that he decides to join him in his bachelor apartment and leaves his father a rebellious note stating his intentions.

The plot develops out of character with the father, Harry Baker, receiving the brunt of the comedy.

Mrs. Rossolo stated "if you enjoyed White House and Black Comedy presented last season, the added attraction of a dinner show will make "Come Blow Your Horn" even more entertaining."

Doll Making Workshop Tomorrow

A workshop in making cornhusk dolls will be held tomorrow, from 7-10 p.m., in room 16 of the Learning Resources Building of Northern Nevada Community College.

The workshop is to be taught by Lee Breitensten of Lamolle and is part of the NNCC Pioneer Arts and Crafts Program.

"This is the time of year, in pioneer days, when there was an abundance of cornhusks from home gardens," program director Bev Copley said today. "Little dolls were made of this material and given to children as their reward for helping with the family's harvesting. Today, they are still an item for gift giving, an individual creation for that special person."

The class is scheduled in time for the gift giving season — Christmas, Mrs. Copley said. The enrollment fee is $8 and includes materials and college fees.

The workshop is funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, The National Endowment for the Arts, along with the college.

AMONG VOLUNTEERS PARTICIPATING in a workshop Saturday at Northern Nevada Community College to promote the proposed Elko City-County civic auditorium complex were, from left: Linda Trontel, Gene Perry, Carol Friske and Terry Hatch. Perry, of the Elko Chamber of Commerce Citizens' Committee, distributed brochures and fact sheets for the volunteers to use in a door-to-door campaign to inform voters. Kick-off for the door-to-door campaign was a rally at the Elko Elks Hall last night where assignments were completed for workers. Perry said the aim of his group is to distribute the informational material to all voters during this coming week and prior to next Tuesday's vote on the bond issue to build the facility. Oct. 26, 76

Doll Class
Scheduled
At NNCC

In time for the gift-giving season, a class in Hand Crafted Dolls, dolls typical of the pioneer home, will be presented at Northern Nevada Community College starting Tuesday, November 2, according to a college spokesman.

The course will be taught by Lee Breitenstein of Lamolille. Each student will make a Raggedy-Ann doll and then variations there of. Supplies can be purchased at the first class. The course is another in the Pioneer Arts and Crafts program at the college, and will run for seven weeks, in room 16 of the Learning Resource Center. The cost is $15 and each person participating will earn one Community Service credit.

This program is funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts and National Endowment for the Arts and the Northern Nevada Community College.

Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Bev Copley at 738-7948 or calling the college.

DR. WILLIAM BERG (left) is shown receiving the first honorary membership card in the Northern Nevada Community College Rodeo Club from the club's advisors Jim Lucas (center) and Stan Alazzi. The newly-formed club is currently selling tickets on a giveaway to raise funds for its scholarship fund. First prize is a side of beef; second and third prizes are a hand-tooled leather handbag and a hand-tooled leather clutch purse. Tickets at $1 each of three for $2.50 are available from any club member. The giveaway will be held on December 1. Rodeo Club meetings are held the first and third Thursday of each month in the NNCC faculty lounge. The NNCC Rodeo Team plans to enter about 12 rodeos this season, with the first one scheduled for Nov. 12-13 at Coolidge, Arizona. (NNCC photo).

Fall Alternate Class
Registration Opens

Registration for fall alternate semester classes opened today at Northern Nevada Community College and will continue until 5 p.m. Nov. 2. An evening enrollment period is scheduled for this evening beginning at 7 p.m. at the Student Services Office.

The interim semester, with instruction beginning the week of Nov. 2, will conclude with the opening of the regular spring semester in mid-January.

"This special semester allows late-comers and new-comers an opportunity to begin college without waiting around until spring, and it also provides us with a chance to create special interest classes — things we can't ordinarily do in the regular semesters," said Dr. Charles Greenhaw.

Scheduled for the alternate semester are about 35 classes, including a special class in electronic printing calculators, office practices, business machines, and all levels of typing. Among other classes are probability and statistics, a basic course in minerals and gems for prospectors and rockhounds, and a team leadership class for nurses.

A complete schedule is available at the college.

Greenhaw pointed out that a class in fire science — building construction for fire protection — will be on the schedule. He added that the college plans to resume the fire science program that was discontinued in 1975.

Dr. Berg Speaks to Rotarians

Dr. William Berg, executive vice-president of Northern Nevada Community College, gave members of Elko Rotary Club an update on the college's activities and enrollment last week at the club's weekly meeting. He had last appeared before Rotary three years ago when he assumed his present position.

Berg said that the 1976 headcount is 796 as compared with 464 in 1973. Full-time equivalent, 16 credits divided into the headcount, is presently 277.26. In 1973 it was 167.61. The college now has programs in Elko, Battle Mountain, Ely, McDermitt, Owyhee, Wells, Wendover and Winnemucca.

He reminded Rotarians that the school's annual fund-raising, Day of the Knights, would be held soon. Proceeds will be used for the basketball team. Berg predicted that the team would be the best fielded in the college's short history.

Council of the Arts Meeting Set

The Northern Nevada Council of the Arts will hold a meeting, Monday evening, November 8, at the home of Ellen Lau, 330 East Minor. The meeting is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

The Council was recently awarded a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts. The grant will enable it to bring the Nevada Opera Company of Reno to Winnemucca in February, 1977, to perform excerpts from Rigoletto.

All interested people are encouraged to attend.

Reservations For Play Accepted

Reservations are now being taken for the Neil Simon Broadway hit to be presented by Northern Nevada Little Theatre at dinner shows this Friday and Saturday.

Tickets for "Come Blow Your Horn" are available at the business office of Northern Nevada Community College as well as the Holiday Inn where the production will be staged.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. with two choices from the menu being offered. The curtain will rise on the three-act comedy immediately after dinner.

Starring in the play, which relates the problems a successful businessman faces when his two sons leave home, are Cynthia Arias, Karen Draper, Jon Felker, Ken Harriman, Tammy Robison, Jim Starr and Mabel Kite. Vicki Rossolo is directing the play, with Elaine Starr as assistant director.

"Richly comic . . . unflinchingly inventive . . . never taking the form of mere gags . . ." was the review by the New York Times when "Come Blow Your Horn" was a hit on Broadway in the 1960s.

Elkoans are urged to purchase tickets in advance for the third production of the Little Theatre group which performed "White House" and "Black Comedy" last year.

'Day of the Knights' Is Tuesday in Elko

George Corner, mayor of Elko, has designated by proclamation Tuesday, Nov. 9, as the third annual "Day of the Knights," a fund-raising campaign to benefit athletic programs at Northern Nevada Community College. Principal beneficiaries of locally generated funds are the basketball team, which plays a 23-game schedule with teams in the region, and the award-winning rodeo team.

According to Dr. William Berg, executive vice-president of NNCC, the local college receives absolutely no state funds for athletic activities and if such programs are to survive at NNCC, the money must be raised by the college.

About $7,500 is needed to support the basketball and rodeo teams. The Associated Student Body has already contributed $1,500 and faculty members another $3,000.

"The Day of the Knights" was inaugurated in the fall of 1974 and, through the donations of Elkoans, a community goal of $2,500 was reached last fall. In appreciation, season tickets to the Knights' home games are mailed to contributors.

The community goal of $2,500 has again been set and students affiliated with the Associated Student Body will canvas Elko business establishments on Tuesday to achieve this goal. This is the only local sustenance drive conducted by the college during the year, Dr. Berg noted.

ASE president Brad Roberts last week explained the fund-raising campaign to the City Council, which endorsed the program. Roberts said that intercollegiate athletics is one of the best methods for a college to gain recognition and to draw students, and said that NNCC has the makings of one of the best basketball teams to date.

The Knights open their season Nov. 19 when they meet Treasure Valley Community College of Ontario, Ore. The first game will be at 8 p.m. Friday with a second game against the Ontario cagers slated for 1 p.m. Saturday. All home games will be played in the Elko Junior High School gymnasium.

New Class Offered At College

The pioneer family saved and used every piece of scrap for whatever might happen along—this is the basis for a new Pioneer Arts and Crafts course at the Northern Nevada Community College, called Figure Draping.

The course will be taught by Margaret Turner, starts Tuesday, Nov. 9, and will last until Dec. 21. Course hours are 7 to 10 p.m. Cost is $15 and the course will offer one community service credit.

The class will instruct each participant in the art of draping scrap materials over a form, usually a bottle. The draping materials then become the clothes for the figure.

Whatever figure or figures the students wish to make will be taught, a spokesman said. This could range from Big Bonnet Dolls, to Christmas Chorallers, to the Three Wise Men to perhaps a nativity scene, time permitting. Materials that can be used in the draping will be discussed at the first class.

The Pioneer Arts and Crafts program is funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts, and Northern Nevada Community College.

For further information persons can contact Bev Copley at 738-7948 or the college at 738-8493.

NNCC 1976 Enrollment Up by 72

Final fall enrollment figures for Northern Nevada Community College show an increase of 72 students being served over 1975 totals, from 1,213 last year to 1,275.

All categories, including college, high school programs, adult basic education and pioneer arts, showed increases over 1975. The number of apprentices remained constant at seven.

College Plans Job Analysis Survey

The Cooperative Education Department of Northern Nevada Community College is compiling a job analysis survey for which it is soliciting the assistance of employers in the five-county area served by the community college.

Stan Aiuzzi, director of Cooperative Education, is spearheading the survey with the assistance of the Cooperative Education Advisory Board members: Dr. William Berg, executive vice president of NNCC; Jim Lucas, agriculture instructor; Karen Martin, psychology and child development instructor; Delna Day, instructor, Licensed Practical Nursing program; Charles Roberts, electronics instructor; Ted Burner, director of the Adult Learning Center; Dorothy Call, instructor, school of business; and Bob Holguin of Nevada State Employment Security.

Advisory board members will supply questionnaires pertinent to their vocational areas which will be mailed to employers who draw from those vocations. The survey will include businesses in Humboldt, Lander, White Pine, Eureka and Elko Counties.

The questionnaire, which will be brief and may be completed in approximately 10 minutes, will correlate valuable information to the college as well as to students and employers, Aiuzzi said.

"A large percentage of returns must be received in order to make the survey valid," Aiuzzi stated. "Surveys conducted at random in metropolitan areas are capable of supplying adequate information," he explained, "but in sparsely-populated areas such as Northeastern Nevada, it is imperative to receive in-put from every employer in the surveyed areas."

Information received will be used to determine college curriculum especially in vocational areas, budgetary allocations and staffing requirements. It will also give the students an overall view of job opportunities upon completion of their education.

Employers will benefit by the opportunity to provide in-put to the college curriculum as well as being assured of qualified and well-trained future employees, Aiuzzi concluded.

NNCC Cagers Open Season Here Friday

The Northern Nevada Community College Knights will open a 22-game basketball schedule this weekend with a two-game series against Treasure Valley Community College from Ontario, Oregon. Both games will be played in the Elko Junior High School gymnasium. Friday's game begins at 8 p.m. Saturday's game is an afternoon contest beginning at 1 p.m.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. NNCC Associated Student Body cardholders are admitted free. Half-time entertainment Friday evening will feature the NNCC karate class.

This year's team is NNCC's youngest ever, according to coach Fred Fogo, with the only returning veteran being 6-foot 7-inch Andy Erickson, one of the leading scorers from last season.

Otherwise, the Knights are first-year personnel — most of them recent graduates of White Pine and Elko schools. Bart Farnsworth, 6-3 forward, Ron Marrujo, 6-2 guard and forward, and Bram Bianchi, 6-2 forward, represent the White Pine contingent. They are joined by Elkoans Rob Morrow, 6-0 guard, Mike Aguirre, 6-1 guard, Bill Hassett, 6-4 forward, and Wade Wright, 6-0 guard.

Rick Cornu, 5-10, from Fallon, and Roy Kaze from Carlin round out the team. Dan Sullivan, last year's team manager, returns in that spot to assist Fogo, a first-year coach.

Fogo is enthusiastic about his locally grown talent. "The team is scrappy, and they can shoot. They'll be worth watching," he said.

Not much is known about the Treasure Valley cagers. "No doubt they'll be big and good," said Fogo. "They play against good competition in many community colleges in Oregon. Apparently they recruit with some vigor. They have players from New York and Pennsylvania."

The team will play nine games in Elko, one in Ely and 12 games on the road.

The final game of the season, against College of Eastern Utah from Price, will be played in Ely.

The schedule:

- Nov. 19-20 — Treasure Valley Community College at Elko.
- Nov. 26-27 — Tooele Army Depot at Elko.
- Dec. 4 — College of Eastern Utah at Price, Utah.
- Dec. 10-11 — Western Nevada Community College at Elko.
- Dec. 17-18 — American River College at Placerville, Calif.
- Jan. 3 — Snow College at Ephraim, Utah.
- Jan. 14-15 — Northwest Nazarene at Nampa, Idaho.
- Jan. 21-22 — Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps at Elko.
- Jan. 28-29 — Tooele Army Depot at Tooele, Utah.
- Feb. 4-5 — Clearfield Job Corps at Clearfield, Utah.
- Feb. 18-19 — Treasure Valley Community College at Ontario, Ore.
- Fe. 25 — Snow College at Elko.
- Feb. 26 — College of Eastern Utah at Ely.

Oregon Team Takes 100-67 Win Over NNCC In Opener

Nov 20, 1976

Treasure Valley Community College went on a 11-0 scoring spree in a 3 1/2 minute span midway through the first half to break open a tight game and went on to defeat Northern Nevada Community College, 100-67, last night in the Knights' season basketball opener at the Elko Junior High School gymnasium.

The Chukars' point burst overcame an early NNCC advantage and moved the visitors into a lead that was never threatened, as they upped their season record to 2-1.

Every player on the Chukars' 10-man roster got into the scoring column as they built up a 55-33 edge at the intermission.

Treasure Valley jumped to an early 5-0 lead as the game opened, but NNCC came back with seven straight points and the teams then traded baskets over the next five minutes, with the Knights leading at one point by three at 15-12.

Wade Wright, Mike Aguirre, Andy Erickson and Bart Farnsworth were scoring for the Elko school and a jumper by Erickson at the 12:43 mark gave the Knights their final lead of the night at 19-18.

Derek Underwood came off the bench to spark the Chukars' point explosion which moved the Oregon squad into the lead for good.

He was ably backed in the point run by Albert Dickey, Troy Franklin and Shane Whitney.

After Erickson hit to halt the Chukars' run, the visitors then outscored NNCC, 14-4, to hold a 19-point lead entering the closing minutes of the half.

Wendell Talley had 17 points and Underwood, 14, for Treasure Valley in the first 20 minutes, while Wright had 14 points for NNCC.

The teams traded baskets through the first portion of the second half as Dickey, Talley and Underwood were connecting for Treasure Valley and Ron Marrujo, Bram Bianchi, Farnsworth and Wright were responding for NNCC.

The visitors built their lead to 26 points at 71-45 with 9:16 left in the game.

Treasure Valley's reserves pushed the lead to 30 at 81-51 with 6:23 left, with Wayne Haynes, Shane Whitney, Joel Stralow and Underwood leading the charge.

Aguirre was NNCC's main offensive threat over the stretch as he hit 11 consecutive points for the host team, which cut the gap to 85-60 with 3:17 left.

Vern Jackson, Stralow and Whitney moved the Chukars' lead to 32 at 94-62 entering the last minute and one-half.

Wright then got the Elko team's final five points in the game.

Whitney hit a follow shot to put the Chukars at the 100 mark with just seconds remaining.

Talley topped Treasure Valley scoring with 23 points and grabbed nine rebounds. Underwood had 18 points, Dickey 12 and Whitney, 11. Franklin finished the night with 11 boards.

Wright topped NNCC and took game scoring honors with 24 points and Aguirre had 21. Farnsworth led Knight rebounding with nine.

The two teams conclude their series at 1 p.m. today at the junior high gymnasium.

TREASURE VALLEY (100) — Jackson 3 0-0 6, Talley 9 5-4 23, Franklin 3 3-4 9, Dickey 5 2-2 12, Ely 2 0-0 4, Stralow 3 0-0 6, Whitney 5 1-2 11, Haynes 3 3-5 9, Underwood 9 0-2 18, Blaine 0 2-2 2. TOTALS: 42 16-25 100.

NORTHERN NEVADA (67) — Erickson 3 1-1 7, Farnsworth 4 0-0 8, Wright 10 4-5 24, Aguirre 6 9-11 21, Marrujo 1 1-2 3, Bianchi 1 0-0 2, Cornu 1 0-1 2, Hassett 0 0-0 0, Kase 0 0-0 0. TOTALS: 26 15-20 67.

N. Nevada Loses Again

Nov 21

ELKO — Treasure Valley defeated Northern Nevada College 92-62 today to score its second basketball straight win over the Knights.

"We were badly outmanned in height. They were big and they had about eight or nine players who were 6-foot-3 or better," said Nevada coach Fred Foggo.

Northern Nevada, 0-2, will host Tooele Army Base of Salt Lake City, Utah, Friday and Saturday.

Wade Wright and Mike Aguirre, a pair of 6-foot Elko guards, led the Knights with 16 and 14 points respectively.

TREASURE VALLEY (92) — Underwood 3 0-0 6, Jackson 4 0-0 8, Blaine 2 2-2 6, Talley 9 2-4 21, Franklin 2 1-1 5, Dickey Stralow 3 0-1 6, Haynes 5 4-5 14, Whitney 3 3-4 9, Eley 7 3-4 17. TOTALS: 38 16-21 92.

NORTHERN NEVADA (62) — Aguirre 5 4-6 14, Marrujo 4 4-4 12, Farnsworth 4 0-2 8, Wright 6 4-6 16, Erickson 2 0-0 4, Cornu 1 2-2 4, Hassett 2 0-1 4. TOTALS: 24 14-21 62.

Knights Drop Opener

Nov 20, 76

ELKO — Northern Nevada College lost its season opener, 100-67, to Treasure Valley Friday night before approximately 300 basketball fans.

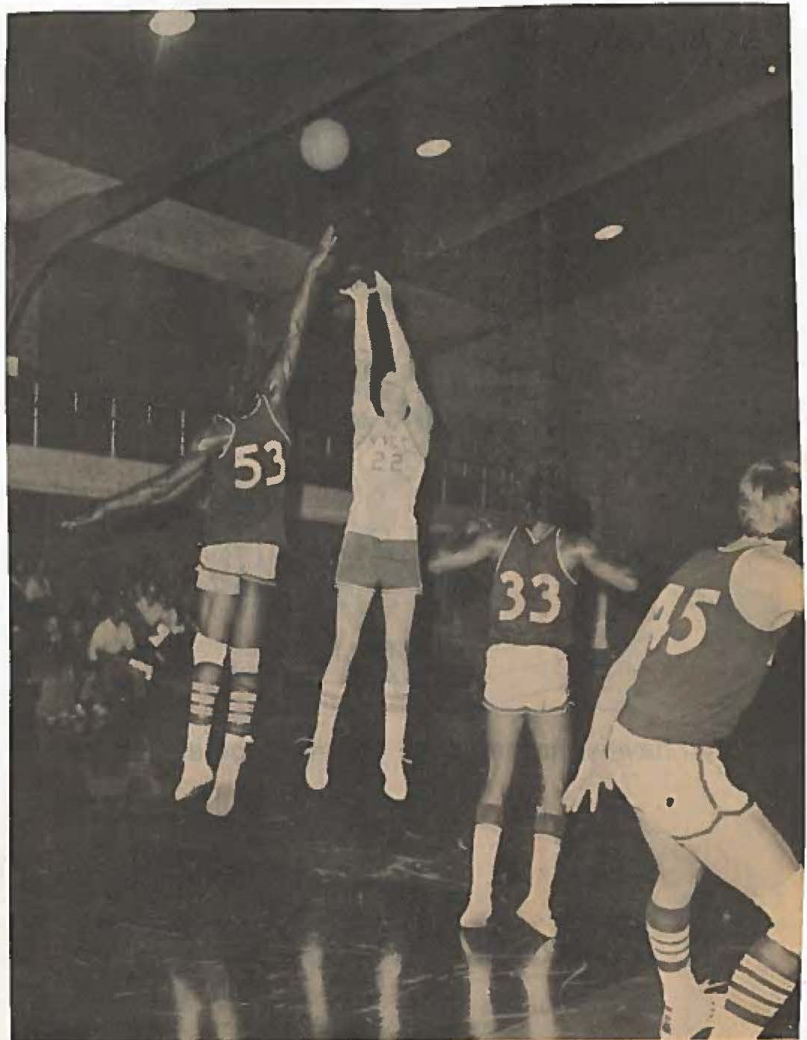

Wade Wright led the losers with 24 points and teammate Mike Aguirre had 21.

Wendell Talley led Treasure Valley, which is 2-1, with 22 points.

TREASURE VALLEY (100) — Underwood 8 0-2 18, Jackson 3 0-0 6, Blaine 0 2-2 2, Talley 9 4-8 22, Franklin 3 3-4 9, Dickey 6 2-3 14, Stralow 3 0-0 4, Haynes 3 3-5 9, Whitney 5 1-2 11, Ely 2 1-1 5. TOTALS: 42 16-27 100.

NORTHERN NEVADA (67) — Aguirre 6 9-11 21, Marrujo 1 1-2 3, Kase 0 0-0 0, Farnsworth 4 0-0 8, Wright 10 4-5 24, Erickson 3 1-1 7, Bianchi 1 0-0 2, Cornu 1 0-1 2, Hassett 0 0-0 0. TOTALS: 26 15-20 67.

Treasure Valley ^{Nov. 22, 76} Wins Finale, 92-62

Treasure Valley Community College made it two straight wins over Northern Nevada Community College, by defeating the Knights, 92-62, Saturday to conclude the opening basketball series of the season for the Elko-based Knights.

Treasure Valley, which won 100-67 on Friday, boosted its record to 3-1 for the year, while the Knights are 0-2.

This Friday and Saturday, the Knights will host the Pooele, Utah, Army Depot in a two-game series at the junior high gymnasium. Friday's game is set for 8 p.m. and the Saturday finale will begin at 1 p.m.

The short-handed Knights, minus Bram Bianchi who injured an ankle Friday night and Rob Morrow who suffered a leg injury prior to the season opener, turned to a slowdown game against the Chukars on Saturday.

It worked for a time as the score was 0-0 after three minutes, but then the bigger visitors took command pulled to a 23-8 lead, midway through the first half.

The intermission buzzer found Treasure Valley on top, 45-23.

The Knights closed the gap to 45-31 with a spurt opening the second half, but the Chukars got their fast break going and NNCC's only big man, Andy Erickson got in foul trouble and the rally stalled.

Erickson fouled out midway through the final half and he was followed to the bench soon after by NNCC's other rebounding threats Ron Marrujo and Bart Farnsworth.

Wade Wright and Mike Aguirre, the Knights' leading scorers on Friday, were shut down most of the afternoon by TVCC's defense, but found the range in the closing minutes of the game to end up with 16 and 14 points respectively. Marrujo had 12. Bill Hassett also turned in a good performance in the closing moments of the game.

For Treasure Valley, Wendell Talley was high with 21 points, Eric Ely added 17 and Wayne Haynes had 14.

Fleischmann Award ^{Nov. 27, 76} Winners Named

Community college scholarships totaling $30,000 are being awarded to recipients under the 1976 Max C. Fleischmann Foundation Nevada Community College Scholarship Program. Twenty-five scholarships have been awarded to students at Clark County Community College, 10 scholarships have been awarded at Northern Nevada Community College, and 24 were awarded at Western Nevada Community College.

Approximately five more scholarships will be awarded at Clark County Community College.

Scholarships range from $200 to $250 per semester for the 1976-77 school year. To qualify as a recipient a student must be a United States citizen, a resident of the State of Nevada, and be enrolled as a full-time student in an occupational service program at a Nevada community college.

This program is formulated and financed by the Fleischmann Foundation and administered by the Nevada Department of Education in conjunction with the Nevada Community College Division. The recipients are selected by a scholarship committee at each community college.

The purpose of this program is to encourage and assist students to continue their education for a career in an occupational service area.

Winners from Northern Nevada Community College are: Debra A. Borjas (Elko), Brunilda Burgess (Ely), Jacqueline Dawn Burch (Elko), Jerilyn Cobb (Ely), Richard Cornu (Fallon), Jack Cummings (Elko), Bart Farnsworth (Elko), Robert Lynn Griswold (Elko), Elizabeth Jane Holt (Fallon), and Gln Yete Quong (Ely).

Rodeo Team ^{Nov. 20, 1976} Opens Year

The Northern Nevada Community College Rodeo Team made a good showing in its first competition of the 1976-77 season last week at Coolidge, Ariz., in an intercollegiate rodeo at Central Arizona College.

Jerry Jones, president of the NNCC club, placed second in bareback competition; Vince Garcia took fourth place in the second round of bronc riding; and Mitch Heguy won sixth in bareback competition. Stan Alazzi, NNCC faculty advisor, accompanied the team.

When the team travels to Western Arizona College in Yuma, Jan. 22 and 23, Dennis Sam and Tammy Cotter will join the team.

The club is raffling a half of beef and two hand-tooled leather handbags to increase the scholarship fund for freshmen at NNCC who wish to participate in rodeo. The winner need not be present at the Dec. 1 drawing.

Future plans of the group include a Christmas dinner party. Membership is open to NNCC students with associate membership for those not enrolled in college, according to Alazzi. Interested persons are urged to attend bi-monthly meetings on the first and third Thursdays at 7 p.m. in the NNCC Faculty Lounge.

Wildcats Visit Rivals

ELKO — Western Nevada Community College took its lumps last weekend when it played basketball in the Bay Area, but the Wildcats, who lost two to large school opponents, play a friendlier team this week.

The Wildcats play the Northern Nevada Knights tonight and Saturday.

The four-year-old series has been the Wildcats' private property. Western Nevada has won all 11 games between the two schools.

But Joe Ayarbe, the former Wildcat head coach who stepped down as an assistant this season to Mike Olivas, refuses to call the games "breathers."

"We don't want them to get mad at us at this time. We've had as tough a schedule as any junior college team around. We've played four tough games."

The Wildcats will take a 2-2 record into tonight's game. After four games, 6-foot-3 Lee Fraser is leading the Wildcats in scoring with a 27.8 average.

Both teams will be at less than full strength. Western Nevada's Jim Griffo is out for about six weeks with a knee injury, while teammate Victor Talancon also has knee problems and is listed as a questionable starter tonight.

Northern Nevada will be without the services of former White Pine star Bart Farnsworth, who left school last week. Bram Bianchi and Rob Morrow are both injured and may not be able to play.

Community College Spring Semester Registration to Begin Soon

Dec. 9, 1976

Lois Craver, coordinator for the Winnemucca campus of the Northern Nevada Community College, said recently that registration for the spring semester will begin January 3, 1977 and end January 14.

Classes will be offered in the following subjects: English, Speech, Science, Painting, Water Colors, Ceramics, World Religion, Stitchery, Psychology, Nevada History, Economics, Nevada School Law, Sewing, Creative Dance, Bank Operations, Spanish, Metric System, Secretarial Accounting, Introduction to Business, Typing, and several other classes. For the complete list of subjects being offered, Mrs.

Craver suggests the reader consult the Community College's ad appearing in this issue of the Humboldt Sun.

She said there will also be a program for adult basic education. It will consist of G.E.D. preparation and English as a second language.

Registration for the spring semester will be held at the Winnemucca N.N.C.C. Center office located at 530 Melarkey Street. The course fees will be $10.00 per credit, plus textbooks and other needed materials.

Classes will meet at the following locations: Lowry High School, National Guard Armory, and Methodist Church basement.

For more information about the classes and the Community College, call 623-3824, or come into the college office.

Wildcats Beat NNCC Saturday

Dec. 13, 76

Western Nevada Community College moved to a nine-point lead at halftime, increased to 18 early in the second half and went on to defeat Northern Nevada Community College, 99-86, Saturday afternoon at the junior high school gymnasium.

The victory enabled the Wildcats to sweep the series, having taken a 118-111 double overtime win from the knights on Friday.

Lee Fraser led WNCC with 34 points, Jeff Ward scored 19, Ramocicotti had 14 and Crick 13.

For the shorthanded Knights, Ron Marrujo had 21 points, Mike Aguirre had 18, and Rob Regnier and Andy Erickson had 14 each.

With the victory, WNCC is now 4-2 on the year. NNCC is 0-5.

This weekend, Northern Nevada Community College will travel to Placerville, Calif., to take on the American River College team in a two-game series.

The Knights' next home game will be on Jan. 21-22, 1977, when the Clearfield Job Corps team comes to town.

WNCC (99) — Monson 0-0-0; Blake 0-0-0; Green 3-4-1; Housby 0-0-0; Ferguson 1-0-2; Ward 7-6-19; Fraser 16-3-36; Gray 4-0-8; Crick 6-1-13; Ramocicotti 5-4-14. TOTALS: 43-18-99.

NNCC (86) — Aguirre 7-4-18; Marrujo 8-5-21; Kase 0-1-1; Regnier 6-3-14; Wright 2-2-6; Erickson 7-0-14; Cornu 3-0-6; Hassett 3-0-6. TOTALS: 34-14-86.

Wildcats Top Knights Again

Dec. 13, 76

ELKO — Western Nevada's basketball team made sure Northern Nevada was down and stayed down Saturday afternoon.

The Wildcats, forced into three overtime periods before downing Northern Nevada Friday, jumped out to an 18-point lead early in the second half and coasted to a 99-86 win.

Western Nevada took the ball inside against the smaller Knights throughout the game. Forward Lee Frazier scored 34 points for Western Nevada. Jeff Ward scored 19 points.

Northern Nevada Ron Marrujo scored 21 points. Mike Aguirre added 18 points for the Knights. "After that game last night, we came out a little flat," said coach Fred Fogo Saturday.

Northern Nevada Scares Western

Dec. 11, 1976

ELKO — Western Nevada Community College got back on the winning track Friday night, but needed two overtimes to do it, outlasting intrastate rival Northern Nevada, 118-111.

The two teams meet again at 1 p.m. today at Elko Junior High.

The score was tied at 92-all after regulation, and 101-all after the first overtime, before the Wildcats pulled away from the foul-depleted Knights.

The Knights, with only an eight-man roster, had only five players left and three of those had four fouls in the deciding overtime.

Lee Fraser scored 28 points and Paul Gray 20 for the Wildcats, who had four other players score in double figures.

Mike Aguirre had 28, Wade Wright 28 and Ron Marrujo 24 for the Knights. Marrujo also had "a bundle of rebounds," according to coach Fred Fogo.

"I've been trying to teach them to play ball control, but I decided to hell with it and let them run. That's their type of game."

Although the Knights still ended up with a loss, their fourth straight this season, they came the closest to winning ever in the long history of the series between the two schools. Western Nevada improved to 3-2 with the win.

WNCC Trips NNCC In Double Overtime

Dec. 11, 76

Western Nevada Community College had to go into two overtimes to defeat Northern Nevada Community College, 118-111, last night at the Elko Junior High gymnasium. The two teams conclude their basketball series today at 1 p.m. at the junior high gym.

The teams were tied 92-92 after regulation play and 101-101 after the first overtime. The game was tied at halftime, 56-56.

Each team held the lead during the first half, with first NNCC on top, then the visitors from the Reno area moving to a 56-50 edge in the closing minutes.

NNCC led by nine at 83-74 midway through the final 20 minutes, but the Knights scoring drive stalled and WNCC gained a one-point advantage with about four minutes left.

Lee Fraser topped the winners with 28 points, and Paul Gray added 20, Crick had 17, Green had 16, Ramocicotti had 13 and Ward 10. For NNCC, Mike Aguirre and Wade Wright had 28 points each, Ron Marrujo had 24 points and paced the Knights' rebounding and Rob Regnier had 10 points.

WNCC (118) — Monson 0-0-0; Blake 1-0-2; Green 6-4-16; Housby 1-2-4; Ferguson 2-2-6; Ward 4-2-10; Fraser 11-6-28; Gray 9-2-20; Crick 7-2-17; Ramocicotti 6-1-13. TOTALS: 47-23-118.

NNCC (111) — Aguirre 11-6-28; Marrujo 9-6-24; Kase 0-0-0; Regnier 5-0-10; Wright 10-8-28; Erickson 3-1-7; Cornu 3-2-8; Hassett 3-0-6. TOTALS: 44-23-111.

Office at NNCC to Be Open

Dec. 2, 76

To accommodate the ever-growing night enrollment at Northern Nevada Community College, the Student Services office will remain open one evening a week, according to Bill Davies, director of Student Services.

A staff member will be available from 6:30 to 9 p.m. on Thursdays beginning today, to answer questions concerning financial aid, student records, academic advising and VA information, Davies said.

The fall semester is almost over, he reported, with final examinations slated for the week of Dec. 20. The spring schedule has been announced and will be available next week in the Student Services office. Registration for spring semester begins Jan. 12 and extends through Jan. 26, with classes starting Jan. 17.

Northern Nevada Must Regroup ^{Dec. 21, 76}

The Northern Nevada Community College basketball team, loser of its first seven games, will get a reprieve on its potential No. 8 defeat.

The Knights don't have to play again until Jan. 14 when they face the Northwest Nazarene junior varsity in Nampa, Idaho.

The Knights lost No. 7 Saturday night when they were beaten by American River-Placerville, 78-69, in Placerville. American River stopped Northern Nevada, 89-79, Friday night, although the Knights' Ron Marrujo scored 41 points.

Marrujo, a freshman from White Pine High School, had 17 points in Saturday's loss. In his 41-point outburst, Marrujo made 15 of 22 field goal attempts and 10 of 11 free throws.

Wade Wright led the Knights' scoring Saturday with 24 points.

The Knights played both games with seven players because of injuries and the flu.

Santa Claus Visits Various Elko Groups ^{Dec. 20, 76}

The Christmas season will be made a little brighter this year for many local children, hospital patients and senior citizens, who will receive hand-delivered gifts from Santa Claus.

Santa, with help from the local chapter of the State of Nevada Employees Association, has visited or will visit the Happy Days Nursery School, the Head Start Center, Northern Nevada Community College child care center, Elko County Retarded Children's Association Developmental School, Elko General Hospital and Ruby Mountains Manor, Inc.

Friday, Santa arrived with his reindeer on the roof of the Happy Days nursery School and handed out story books and a candy cane to about 20 excited children.

After the gifts were given, the children sang "Jingle Bells" to Santa, then crowded their red-suited visitor from the North Pole to make requests for items they would like to find under the tree on Christmas morning.

And of course, Santa was only too glad to listen to the children, patiently taking in their requests before departing with a wave of his hand and a wink of his eye. He left the school amid a clatter of reindeer hooves, on his way to bring Christmas to yet another group.

NNCC Drops Cage Series in California ^{Dec. 21, 76}

Northern Nevada Community College's "short-handed" basketball team travelled to Placerville, Calif., over the weekend and dropped a two-game series to American River College.

American River took an 89-79 verdict on Friday night and won 78-69 on Saturday afternoon.

Knights' coach Fred Fogo, with just six players available to him, had to suit up team manager Dan Sullivan both nights, after two plays had fouled out of the games.

Fogo said his team "continues to play in spurts" having moments of brightness and then giving up a quick bunch of points to the opponents.

He noted that the team had cut down on turnovers in Saturday's game, but was hampered by the limited number of players available, personal fouls and American River's halfcourt zone press defense.

One bright spot on the trip was the outstanding play of high-leaping Ron Marrujo. The 6-1 White Pine graduate collected 41 points in Friday's contest to go along with 12 rebounds and scored 17 points on Saturday. Fogo said he believes Marrujo's 41 point outburst is a school scoring record.

Wade Wright backed Marrujo in the scoring department by dumping in 36 points in the two games and Andy Erickson had 27 points in the series.

Northern Nevada has ended its semester and Fogo said he hopes to pick up a couple of players with the new semester.

The Knights, with an 8-7 season record, will play next at Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa, Idaho, on Jan. 14.

Test Set Monday At College ^{12/30/76}

The next testing date for the Career Planning Profile (CPP) is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 3, 1977. It will be held in the Northern Nevada Community College Voc-Tech building commencing at 8 a.m. and ending at 12 noon. There is a fee of $5.75 for this test.

The examination is not given to screen out or reject students, as there is no possible way to fail the examination, a college spokesman said, noting the purpose of the examination is to provide better program and career guidance for the college's students.

The CPP is an admission requirement for the Nursing and Business programs.

Students in other programs may take the test to aid them in vocational placement. Persons should contact the Student Services Office if they have any further questions.

Community College Registration Open

Jan. 4, 77
Humboldt Sun

Registration for Spring semester classes at the Winnemucca Center, Northern Nevada Community College, opened Monday and will continue through January 14. Those wishing to register for the classes which begin the week of January 17 may do so at the Winnemucca Center office, 530 Melarkey St.

Classes will be offered in English, speech, science, painting, water colors, ceramics, world religions, stitchery, psychology, Nevada history, economics, Nevada school law, sewing, creative dance, bank operations, Spanish, metric system, secretarial accounting, introduction to business, typing, shorthand, wild land firefighting, law enforcement, agriculture, welding, auto mechanics, leather craft, retirement planning, spinning, children's theater workshop, parent effectiveness training and other subjects.

There will also be a program for adult basic education which will consist of GED preparation and "English as a second language."

Fees are $10 per credit plus textbooks and other materials. Various classes will meet at Lowry High School, National Guard Armory and Methodist Church basement.

Among the more immediately useful courses will be the Typing II class, designed to enable the student to type more accurately and to develop speed in preparing the following business forms:

Application for employment, W-4 form, business letters, interoffice memos, composing a letter, itinerary, reports, executive letters, resolutions, price lists, pricing tables, invoices, index cards, computer change forms, file folder labels, form letters, voucher checks, tabulation, travel expense reports and others.

Anyone who has had a basic course in typing, office experience, or is interested in office procedure is encouraged to enroll in the advanced typing course. The instructor is Mrs. Judy Rose.

Other business courses will be offered in secretarial accounting, shorthand II and introduction to business.

A science course in biological principles will be offered, utilizing a new teaching concept. There will be a team of five instructors, each teaching three weeks in different phases of biology such as water and soil conservation, animal and plant life, and other aspects of the science. Each instructor will bring to the class his own knowledge and experience in each field.

There will be several courses offered in the field of the arts and crafts, including water color painting, oil painting, stitchery (both beginning and advanced), ceramics, spinning and dyeing, speech, dancing, children's workshop theater, leathercraft and others.

New this semester will be courses in both auto mechanics and welding. The auto mechanics class will be instructed by Walt Johnstone at his new automotive repair shop at Bridge and Giroux Sts. Stan La Roque will instruct the welding class which will first meet on Monday, Jan. 17, at the high school. Students will be required to pay for their own materials used in these two courses and will pay the instructors.

A course in individual retirement planning will be taught by local insurance agent Russ Alderman. Students will examine the services and products of various financial institutions with emphasis on tax aspects of various products relating comparisons to net spendable retirement dollars.

Any student who needs financial assistance, or anyone with inquiries about the community college may call Mrs. Lois Craver, coordinator, or Paty Ross at 623-3824.

Knights Stay Winless

NAMPA, Idaho — Greg Thompson poured in 29 points Friday night to lead the Northwest Nazarene junior varsity to an 85-71 victory over Northern Nevada Community College.

The Knights, winless in eight starts, meet Northwest Nazarene again tonight at 7.

Ron Marrujo paced Northern Nevada with 18 points, while Bob Regnier had 17.

Knights Play In Idaho

Northern Nevada Community College's Knights will travel to Nampa, Idaho, this weekend for a two-game basketball series with Northwest Nazarene College.

The Knights, who will carry just a 7-man roster, will enter the game with an 0-7 record.

Knights Win First

Northern Nevada Community College captured its first victory of the season on Saturday, defeating Northwest Nazarene College, 72-70, in a game played in Nampa, Idaho.

The victory, in the second game of the weekend series, gives the Knights a 1-8 season record. This weekend, NNCC will host the Clearfield Job Corps in a series on Friday night and Saturday afternoon at the Elko Junior High gymnasium.

In Saturday's victory, Rob Regnier iced the verdict by hitting two free throws with :40 left in the game to put the Knights up by four at 72-68.

Regnier finished the game with 20 points, while Matt Burner scored 24 for the Knights. Ron Marrujo added 13 points and Andy Erickson did yeoman work on the boards. For the losers, Thompson had 16 points, Noel had 19 and Vasquez had 18.

On Friday night, Northwest Nazarene had handed the Knights their eighth straight loss of the year in the series opener.

NNCC (72) — Regnier 9 3-2 20; Burner 9 6-10 24; Smales 0 0-1 0; Perry 0 0-0 0; Erickson 5 3-4 13; Marrujo 3 1-1 13; Hesser 0 2-4 2; Cornu 1 2-4 10. Totals: 25 22-34 72.

NNCC Wins Second Straight by 98-77

Northern Nevada Community College led from the opening tipoff last night in defeating Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps, 98-77, in a basketball game played at the Elko Junior High School gym.

The teams conclude their weekend series this afternoon at the junior high gym, with tipoff set for 1 p.m.

The Knights had four players in double figures in winning their second straight game of the year. The Knights are now 2-8.

NNCC jumped to an early 23-5 lead and never looked back, although the Utah team closed to within three at 59-55, with about 15 minutes left in the game, before the Elko squad went on a spree and cemented the verdict.

Rob Regnier led NNCC with 30 points, Matt Burner added 22, Ron Marrujo, 20 and Wade Wright, 12. For Clearfield, Snow had 33 points, Jones, 20, and Green had 12.

Elated Knights Win First Game

ELKO — After eight futile tries, the Knights of Northern Nevada Community College won their first game of the season Saturday night, shading the Northwest Nazarene junior varsity 72-70.

"It feels wonderful," said Knight coach Fred Fogo, thoroughly elated at having won No. 1 under his belt.

Bob Regnier, who finished with 20 points, dropped in two free throws with 40 seconds left to give the Knights a 72-68 lead which proved to be insurmountable.

Scoring honors went to the Knights' Matt Burner, who had 24.

"They both played very well," said Fogo, who also singled out 6-7 center Andy Erickson, who despite missing most of the first half with four fouls scored nine points and helped Northern Nevada control the boards.

Ron Marrujo, with 13 points, was the only other Knight in double figures.

NORTHERN NEVADA (72) — Regnier 9 2-2 20; Burner 9 6-10 24; Smales 0 0-1 0; C. Perry 0 0-0 0; Erickson 5 3-4 13; Marrujo 3 1-1 13; Hesser 0 2-4 2; Cornu 1 2-4 10. Totals 25 22-34 72.

Elko College Board, Faculty Voice Support for Donnelly

Jan. 14, 77

M. E. Lundberg of Elko, a member of the advisory board at Northern Nevada Community College, was scheduled to appear before regents of the University of Nevada System today in Las Vegas to present a statement of support of Dr. Charles Donnelly, president of the community college division of the university system.

Lundberg was to present the statement in response to an announcement by Gov. Mike O'Callaghan that Donnelly's office was to be eliminated as a budget-cutting device.

Local officials of the college made available copies of the statement to be presented by Lundberg, which was signed by Hugh Collett, chairman of the advisory board here, and a second statement by the faculty at the Elko college.

The board statement, after a brief preamble, recited a resolution adopted by the advisory board at a meeting here on Tuesday. The resolution states:

"The members of the Northern Nevada Community College Advisory Board feel that to date the Community College structure has worked extremely well. Until it can be demonstrated that a better system is possible, we strongly support a continuation of the Community College as a Division of the University System with equal autonomy to the other divisions of the system. It is our contention that the proposed modifications in the executive budget would weaken the system and destroy its effectiveness.

"The members of the Northern Nevada Community College Advisory Board are also of the opinion that Dr. Charles Donnally has done an outstanding job in leading the Community College Division to its current position of excellence and wholeheartedly support his continued leadership."

A spokesman for the faculty at the Elko college also reported a Western Union Mailgram had been dispatched to the board of regents in Las Vegas to demonstrate support for Donnelly.

That communication said: "The faculty of Northern Nevada Community College votes its full support for President Donnelly. It objects to any (Continued on Back Page)

Three Former Teachers Enrolled at Elko College

Jan. 14, 77

By Judy Cole

For some the road to knowledge never ends — because they want it that way. Choosing that road at Northern Nevada Community College are three prominent Elko women who have traveled many academic paths in their lifetimes.

Mrs. Marguerite Evans, the only native Elkoan of the three, introduced the idea of enrolling in a college course at a book review meeting of the American Association of University Women, Elko Chapter.

"She invited me to go back to school with her," Mrs. Beatrice Wagner said. "I hadn't given school a thought for years and really didn't even know what NNCC had to offer."

Mrs. Evans, a loyal supporter of NNCC since its inception 10 years ago, convinced her friend she'd enjoy a literature class — "sort of a refresher course" — and the two, both retired school teachers, enrolled last spring semester in Survey Of English Literature.

In Fred Fogo's literature class they met Lois Parks, another retired school teacher. Relatively new to Elko, Mrs. Parks has returned to school whenever time allowed. As a parttime resident of Tuscarora where her son, Dennis, is the founder and director of the Tuscarora pottery school, she has to make time for her classes at NNCC. She maintains a home in Elko during the school year for her two teenaged grandsons and returns to assist at the pottery school on weekends and during the summer months.

"I began my teaching career when my sons entered college," Mrs. Parks said, "And find it difficult to leave an academic atmosphere." She has managed to stay very much a part of the scene, however, with teaching poetry and reading at Independence Valley school, Tuscarora, once a week and introducing first through third graders to poetry at Elko County Library every Tuesday evening. Peter and Penelope, her gingham dog and calico cat, assist with the poetry hour at the library. Mrs. Parks' efforts with the young people are strictly voluntary, inspired by her love for poetry and children.

She received her master's degree in elementary education from George Washington University, Washington, D.C., while her husband was employed with the U.S. State Department as the head of the Historical Office. During their 20 years in Washington, Mrs. Parks taught in the Arlington, Va., schools attended by children of State Department diplomats as well as government employees.

"Yes, Elko was the first home of the University of Nevada," Mrs. Evans said, "And I believe with the community college well-established here, and the new civic center a reality, a rebirth of culture is occurring in Elko."

Fogo and his students discovered Mrs. Evans' remarkable knowledge of Elko's history during an oral report when much of the area's past was related and compared to a novel being reviewed.

Mrs. Evans was born in the family home on Court Street, daughter of the late Elko County Clerk and Recorder, Webster Patterson. She attended high school in Elko and returned to the same building years later as high school librarian. She received her bachelor of arts degree at Mills College majoring in political science and went onto the University of Southern California for her master's degree in English and library science.

When asked how she felt about taking a class from an instructor many years her junior and on her same academic level, she replied: "I've thoroughly enjoyed Mr. Fogo's classes. His voice, dramatic ability and literary knowledge lend beautifully to survey courses. But I'm afraid he'll soon be too big for Elko."

At the completion of two courses at NNCC, Mrs. Wagner was asked how she felt about her return to the academic world.

"Rejuvenated!" she replied. "Oh, I must admit I was a little shocked, at first, at the casualness of it all — coffee in class, young ladies in blue jeans, and the openness and frankness of our instructor, but it's been great. I really feel in tune with the times."

The Wagners became Elkoans in 1938 when Fred Wagner opened an ice cream drive-in where the Ranch Inn is now located and his wife gave up teaching to assist him.

"I taught in Salt Lake the morning we moved," she said, "I'd worked so hard for my degree and hated to leave the classroom after 14 years."

Mrs. Wagner received a "normal certificate" from Brigham Young University in 1917 and attended that school by correspondence, extension and summer school sessions for the next two decades receiving a bachelor of science degree in 1934. She holds a life-time grammar and high school teaching certificate.

In their retirement the Wagners travel during the winter months having visited Panama and Mexico and vacationed for four months in Barbados where their son was stationed with the Navy.

A granddaughter, who has a master's degree in English and teaches at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, receives a copy of Fogo's class exams.

"I think they're grand," she said, "Of course, I don't have to take them! But I'm certain my granddaughter can glean some ideas from them."

Students who audit classes at NNCC are not required to take exams and this literary trio wishes students good luck as they depart with smiles which say, "We've walked that path before!"

COLLEGE COED is a title one need never retire. Proving the road to knowledge never ends are three Elko women who recently completed their second semester at Northern Nevada Community College. They are, from left: Mrs. Marguerite Evans, Mrs. Lois Parks and Mrs. Beatrice Wagner discussing "The Great Gatsby" with NNCC English instructor, Fred Fogo. The three retired school teachers found returning to school brought them up-to-date on 20th Century literature and, as Mrs. Wagner stated, "in tune with the times." (NNCC photo).

Knights Will Host Clearfield Job Corps

Northern Nevada Community College's Knights will be trying to make it two wins in a row this weekend when they host the Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps in a basketball series at the Elko Junior High School gymnasium.

The Knights, who defeated Northwest Nazarene College of Nampa, Idaho, 72-70, last Saturday will enter this weekend's games with a 1-8 record.

Coach Fred Fogo, who has been running "short-handed" all season, got some more bad news this week, when it was learned that 6-7 center Andy Erickson had suffered a broken thumb last Friday night and will be out of action for about three weeks. Fogo said that Erickson had played in Saturday's victory and discovered the thumb was broken on Monday.

Tentative starters for NNCC on Friday will be Ron Marrujo (6-1), Bill Hassett (6-3), Rick Cornu (6-10), Rob Regnier (5-10) and either Matt Burner (6-1) or Cole Perry (6-2).

The remainder of the Knights' squad is John Smales, Craig Perry and Roy Kaze.

Friday's game is scheduled for an 8 p.m. tipoff, while Saturday's game will start at 1 p.m.

Community College Head Hits Budget Charges

The president of Nevada's community college system said Wednesday he stands by his record and disputes charges of inadequate supervision made against him by State Budget Director Howard Barrett.

Meanwhile, the University of Nevada-Reno's vice-president of academic affairs warned that strict spending limits imposed in the governor's proposed university budget will likely reduce programs, increase class size and eliminate much of the individual attention normally given UNR students. Both developments came Wednesday in the running discussion on Gov. Mike O'Callaghan's $57.2 million budget proposal for the university system next year. University officials have complained the budget — although a $4.6 million total increase over the current budget — won't meet needs brought on by inflation and increased enrollment. The university regents had asked the governor for a $9.4 million increase over the current year's budget.

Donnelly, who oversees the state's four community college campuses, said budget director Barrett "should ask the students, faculty, administration and public advisory boards about the progress we've made."

"We've grown to 16,000 students," Donnelly added. "He should ask who supervised the growth."

Donnelly answered comments made Tuesday by Barrett, who said inadequate supervision and the "unnecessary level of administration" of Donnelly's office prompted his recommendation that the office be abolished. The governor concurred and included that recommendation in his executive budget proposal to the Nevada Legislature, which convenes Monday. Thirteen of Donnelly's 18 staffers would be dislocated and might lose their jobs under the proposal.

The president also disputed Barrett's suggestion that budget transfers at Clark County Community College in Las Vegas were improperly made. He said fund transfers must pass through long chain of approvals and review before they're made final.

Donnelly also disputed Barrett's claim that enrollment projections missed the mark at the Las Vegas campus. "The figures have been amazingly accurate. From our state plan in 1970, our actual enrollments in fall, 1976 varied less than 1 per cent. You can't get much closer than that."

System President Stands By Record

Donnelly said he plans to outline the many services his offices provides when the board of regents meets Friday in Las Vegas.

On the University of Nevada-Reno campus, Robert Gorrell expressed concern "about the effects of the executive budget on the quality of academic work." Gorrell, who oversees UNR's academics as vice-president of academic affairs, also said the loss of 30 graduate fellowship positions — in which graduate students are paid to teach and assist with professors — "will handicap the graduate program severely."

"The result, I think, quite practically will mean a continuing increase in class sizes and loss of personal attention to individual students," he added. The vice-president said personal attention has traditionally been a strong asset on the UNR campus.

Gorrell also said the campus is losing faculty under the proposed budget at a time when it needs professors the most. He explained that the College of Business and the Mackay School of Mines particularly need more faculty because of accreditation pressures. Several departments in the College of Arts and Science — which Gorrell until recently directed as dean — also need more staff, he added. "And these are not for expansion purposes. These are to maintain quality education."

UNR President Max Milam has been out of town attending a National Collegiate Athletic Association convention all week, and has not commented yet on the governor's budget proposal.

A delegation from Elko will appear in support of the Community College Administration when the regents meet Friday.

Hugh Collett, chairman of the advisory board of Northern Nevada Community College, said the board will present a resolution supporting continued autonomy for the Community College Division, equal to that of other divisions in the University of Nevada System.

The resolution, he said, also commends Donnelly for his leadership of the Community College Division.

College Announces Two New Classes

With registration at Northern Nevada Community College continuing through Wednesday, Jan. 26, two community service classes have been added to the spring schedule.

Horseshoeing will be taught in a five-week course which will meet twice a week at the Auction Barn of the Elko County Fair Grounds. However, the first two classes, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 26 and 27, will convene at NNCC, Vocational-Technical building, rooms 6 and 7. A total of 10 classes will include 30 class hours with classes extending from 7 to 10 p.m.

Chuck Evans, who has been a professional farrier 19 years, will teach the class for two community service credits. Evans has searched for new methods and techniques of pathological and corrective shoeing and will present the course for people who wish to learn the proper methods of shoeing horses, a college spokesman said.

A limit of 15 students has been designated and registration fee is $30. Interested persons may enroll in class Wednesday evening.

Also added to the spring schedule is a five-week course on Power Plant Operation — Maintenance and Repair. Bill Bellinger will instruct the class in basic engine operation, light plant care and maintenance, basic electrical repair of trucks, tractors and light plants as well as magneto testing and repair. Students will be given an opportunity to work on individual jobs and projects, Bellinger said.

A registration fee of $10.50 for the one-credit course may be paid at the first class meeting Monday, Jan. 24. Classes will begin at 7 p.m. and conclude at 10 p.m.

Bellinger said participants are encouraged to bring engines or power plants to class.

NNCC Rodeo Club Heads For Yuma

Northern Nevada Community College rodeo team will travel to Yuma, Ariz., this weekend to compete in the second annual Western Arizona College Rodeo.

Riding for NNCC will be last year's regional saddle bronc champion, Vince Garcia, along with Jerry Jones, Mitch Heguy and new team member, Dennis Sam.

In addition to the bareback and saddle bronc events, Jones will also enter bull riding.

Application forms will be distributed next week to area high schools for NNCC rodeo team scholarships applicable to the 1977-78 school year. All high school seniors interested in attending the community college and competing with the rodeo team are encouraged to apply, according to Stan Alazzi, faculty advisor, and Jack Dorschel, rodeo club secretary-treasurer.

Additional information may be obtained by calling either Alazzi or Dorschel at NNCC, 738-8493.

College Singers Seek Piano Donor

Nada Joy Larson, music instructor at Northern Nevada Community College, is looking for a resident of this area who might be willing to donate a piano to the college.

Mrs. Larson explained a vocal group called the College Singers was started last fall at the institution and has performed on various occasions in the community during the past few months. She said the group has one piano available at present, but observed the size of the group is such that multiple practice sessions would be helpful — for instance, with men and women in separate sessions for practicing some selections.

She reported she approached officials at the college to determine whether a second piano could be purchased, but was told available funding would not allow such a purchase at this time.

As a result, Mrs. Larson decided she would issue an appeal to the community to find out whether a piano might be available from a donor.

She asked that anyone wishing to make such a donation contact her at the college by calling 738-8493.

Mrs. Larson added that if anyone should be so generous as to offer a grand piano, she expected such a gift would be given a place of honor in the college library and provided with a plaque paying tribute to the donor.

Northern Nevada Wins Second Straight Game

ELKO — After an eight-game losing streak, the Knights of Northern Nevada Community College have now won two in a row.

They made it two straight Friday night with a 98-77 triumph over the Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps Center.

"We played real well," said coach Fred Fogo. "Our half-court press was very effective for the second game in a row, and Ron Marrujo was just awesome on the boards."

The 6-1 Marrujo, a White Pine product, ripped down 21 rebounds in addition to scoring 20 points. Bob Regnier led the Knights with 30 and Matt Burner added 22, while the loser's De Lane Snow took game honors with 33.

The two teams meet again today at 1 p.m.

CLEARFIELD (77) — Snow 13 7-16 33, Smith 1 0-2 2, Jones 10 0-1 20, Green 6 0-0 12, Schralan 0 0-0 0, Butler 0 0-0 0, M. Butler 1 0-1 2, Yates 4 0-0 8, Varlack 0 0-1 0. Totals 35 7-21 77.

Half-time score — Northern Nevada 46 Clearfield 39. Total fouls — Clearfield 26 Northern Nevada 22. Fouled out — Green, Schralan, M. Butler. Technical fouls — Hassett, Green.

Office to Continue To Be Open

The Student Services office of Northern Nevada Community College will continue to be open from 6 to 9 p.m. on Thursday evenings during the spring semester.

The extended hours will enable night students to seek information concerning financial aid, student records, academic advising and Veterans' Administration information.

Bill Davies, director of Student Services, began the extended services last semester and feels the spring student enrollment numbers warrant continuing the practice.

Knights 'Storm' to Third Victory

Jan. 23, 77

ELKO -- Northern Nevada Community College's basketball team "really stormed 'em" as the Knights powered past Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps Center 91-75 Saturday.

Northern Nevada, which defeated Clearfield 98-77 Friday night, has now won three games in a row, coming off an eight-game season-opening losing streak.

Matt Burner scored 33 points to lead the Knights. Teammate Wade Wright scored 17 points and pulled down 14 rebounds.

Clearfield led at halftime 44-39. Northern Nevada adjusted its defense and broke the game open in the second half.

"We came out pretty flat," Knight coach Fred Fogo said after the game. "We beat them pretty easily last night and weren't up for the game in the first half."

"But we really stormed 'em in the second half. We went from a loose zone press to a tight man-to-man defense."

Northern Nevada outscored Clearfield 31-13 in the opening minutes of the second half.

CLEARFIELD (75) -- Snow 9 2-4 20, Smith 1 0-0 2, Jones 10 6-7 26, Green 8 9-1 16, Schrahan 2 1-2 5, J. Butler 2 0-3 4, M. Butler 0 0-0 0, Yates 1 0-2, Varticck 0 0-2 0. Totals 33 9-19 75.

NORTHERN NEVADA (91) -- Regnier 5 2-3 12, Burner 11 11-15 33, Craig Perry 0 0-1 0, Smales 1 0-2 2, Cole Perry 2 0-0 4, Marrujo 6 5-7 17, Hassett 0 2-4 2, Cornu 2 0-0 4, Wright 7 3-6 17. Total 34 23-39 91.

Halftime score -- Clearfield 44 Northern Nevada 39. Total fouls -- Clearfield 33, Northern Nevada 17. Fouled out -- Smith, Green, Schrahan, Yates. Technical fouls -- Burner, Smith, Clearfield bench.

Knights Win 91-75

Jan. 24

Northern Nevada Community College Knights defeated Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps Center 91-75 in a match here Saturday.

The Knights posted a 98-77 victory over Clearfield Friday and Saturday's win makes three in-a-row in that category, following an eight-game losing streak to open the season.

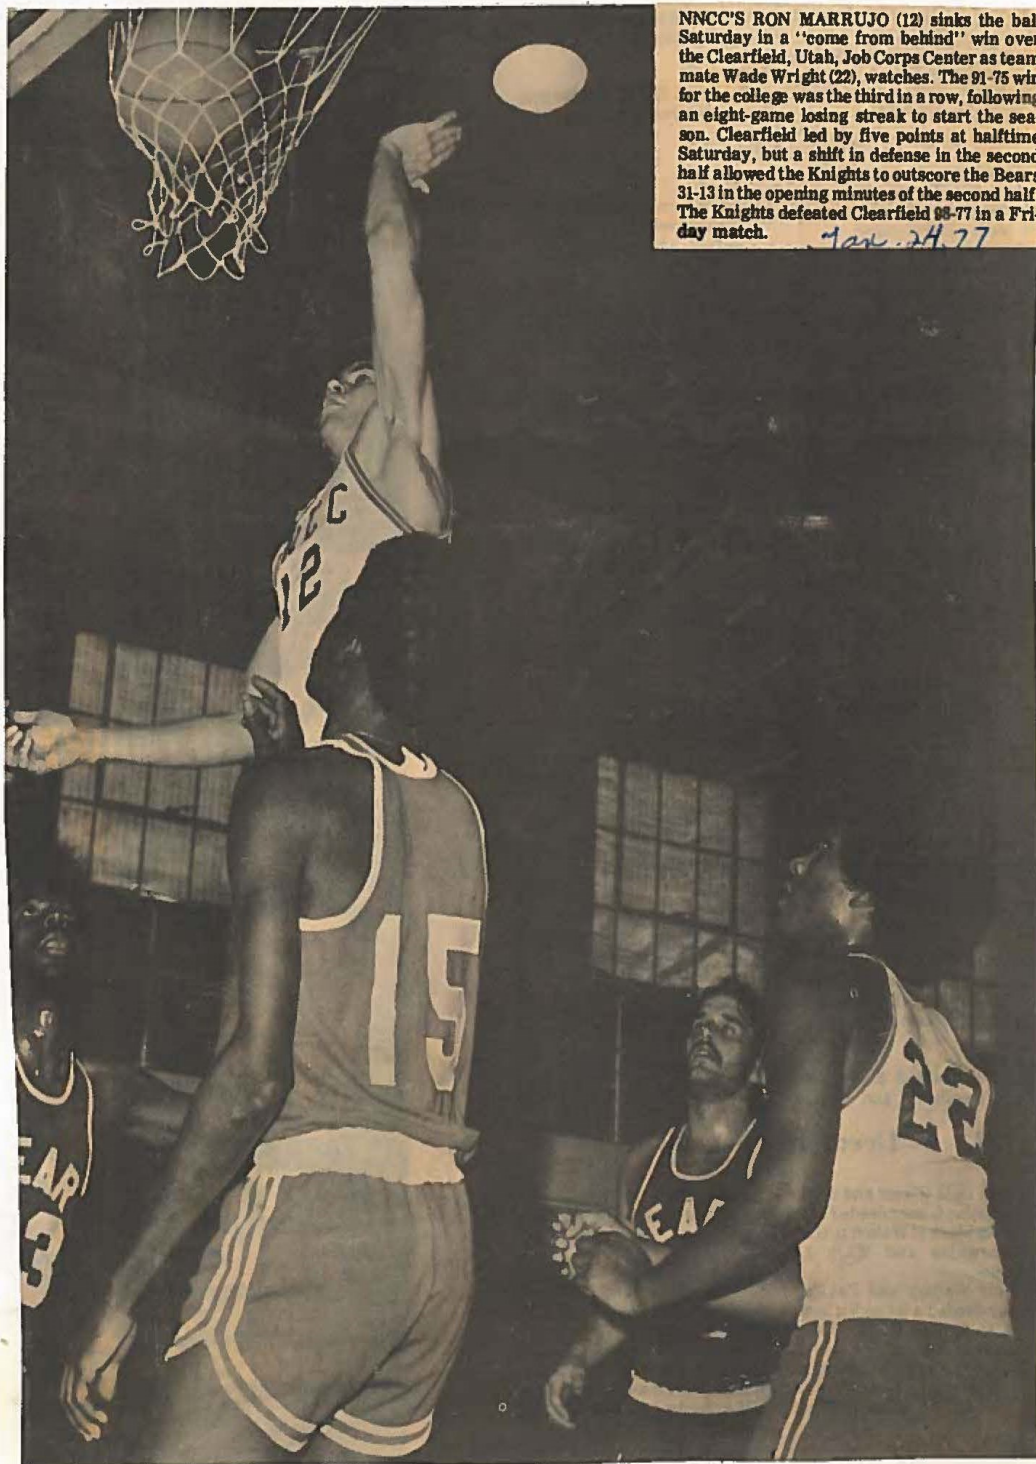

Matt Burner led the scoring with 33 points while Wade Wright scored 17 and pulled down 14 rebounds.

A change in defense in the second half brought NNCC from behind, the halftime score was 44-39, and into the lead. NNCC outscored Clearfield 31-13 in the opening minutes of the second half.

CLEARFIELD (75) -- Snow 9 2-4 20, Smith 1 0-0 2, Jones 10 6-7 26, Green 8 9-1 16, Schrahan 2 1-2 5, J. Butler 2 0-3 4, M. Butler 0 0-0 0, Yates 1 0-2, Varticck 0 0-2 0. Totals 33 9-19 75.

NORTHERN NEVADA (91) -- Regnier 5 2-3 12, Burner 11 11-15 33, Craig Perry 0 0-1 0, Smales 1 0-2 2, Cole Perry 2 0-0 4, Marrujo 6 5-7 17, Hassett 0 2-4 2, Cornu 2 0-0 4, Wright 7 3-6 17. Total 34 23-39 91.

Halftime score -- Clearfield 44, Northern Nevada 39. Total fouls -- Clearfield 33, Northern Nevada 17. Fouled out -- Smith, Green, Schrahan, Yates. Technical fouls -- Burner, Smith, Clearfield bench.

NNCC'S RON MARRUJO (12) sinks the ball Saturday in a "come from behind" win over the Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps Center as teammate Wade Wright (22), watches. The 91-75 win for the college was the third in a row, following an eight-game losing streak to start the season. Clearfield led by five points at halftime Saturday, but a shift in defense in the second half allowed the Knights to outscore the Bears 31-13 in the opening minutes of the second half. The Knights defeated Clearfield 98-77 in a Friday match.

LEE G. MILLER, an Elko native, has been named chief x-ray technician at Elko General Hospital.

Miller Joins Staff At Elko Hospital

By Terry Hickson
Hospital Publicist

A young man who received his training at Northern Nevada Community College in Elko and Western Nevada Community College in the Reno area is the new chief X-ray technician at Elko General Hospital.

He is Lee G. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin of Elko. Miller completed the radiologic technology program and trained in three of the major hospitals in the Reno area, St.

Mary's, Washoe Medical Center and Veterans Memorial.

He recently was certified as a radiological technologist by the American Registry of Radiological Technologists.

Presently a bachelor, Miller likes the outdoor recreation Elko County offers.

He is a member of the Elko unit of the National Jeep Search and Rescue organization and looks forward to working in his home area. He has lived in Elko since early childhood.

Spinning, Weaving, At College

A ten week class will start this week in Beginning and Advanced Spinning and Weaving at Northern Nevada Community College. The class, another in the Pioneer Arts and Crafts program, will be taught by Lenore Rush.

Beginning weavers will learn how to build their own looms for stick, inkle and card weaving, and each student will be expected to complete one project with each loom. Advanced weavers will use table and floor looms and may work on group or individual projects. Types of looms, patterns, and designs will be discussed by Mrs. Rush.

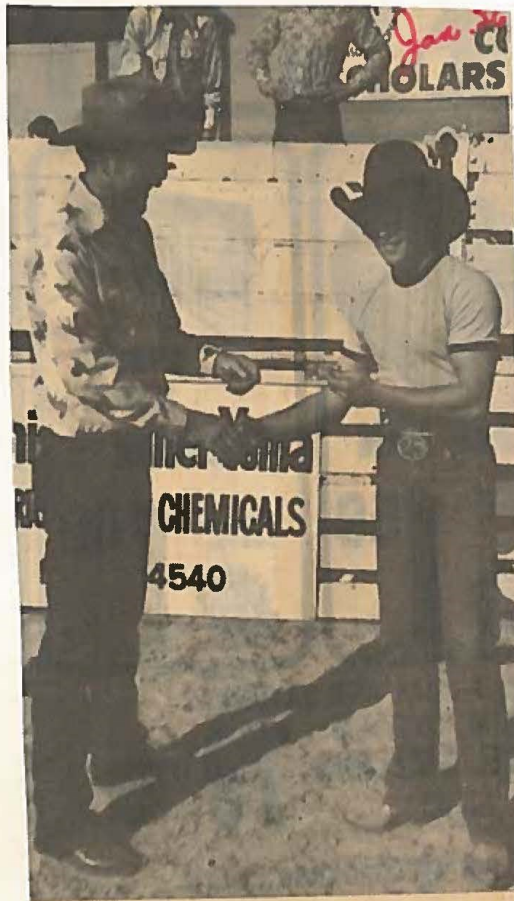

Students interested in spinning will learn natural dyeing and spinning of both native Nevada and imported wools with the drop spindle and spinning wheel.

The class is offered on Tuesday afternoons from 1 to 4 p.m. beginning tomorrow and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. beginning Jan. 27. The class will be held in room 12 of the Learning Resource Center. Interested persons may enroll during the class's first meeting, and the cost is $20 for two community service credits.

Mrs. Rush a native of Germany, is a graduate teacher in Home Economics, handwork and physical education. She received her knowledge of weaving from friends who are professional handweavers.

The project is funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts and Northern Nevada Community College.

Further information on the class or Pioneer Arts and Crafts program may be obtained by calling Bev Copley at 738-7948.

SILVER BUCKLE and congratulations are extended to Mitch Heguy (right) of the Northern Nevada Community College rodeo team who placed first in bareback competition last weekend when the team drove to Yuma, Ariz., to compete in the Arizona Western College rodeo. Stock used at the Yuma event was the same used last year during the NIRA national finals. The next competition for the NNCC team will be Feb. 12 and 13 in Brawley, Calif., at Imperial Valley College. Banjo, Decoupage At College

Two more Pioneer Arts and Crafts classes will start this week at Northern Nevada Community College.

Every Tuesday evening from Feb. 1 through Mar. 22, from 7 to 8 p.m., Banjo playing will be offered. It is a class in five-string banjo playing and all styles will be covered, from bluegrass and Scruggs picking to many other styles.

Don Hewitt, well known for his creativity in banjo and dulcimer making, will teach the class, according to Bev Copley, director. Anyone interested is invited to join. Cost is $10. Registration will take place at the time of the first class meeting in Room 12 of the Learning Resources Building.

A morning class in Decoupage will be offered by Mary Harper, known in the community for her artistic abilities in the craft area, Mrs. Copley said. The class is scheduled for Wednesday mornings, beginning Feb. 2, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. for ten weeks in Room 12 of the Learning Resources Building.

Decoupage is the art-craft technique of applying a cut-out print to a desired object and getting the "picture" to recede into the background by applying many coats of a clear finish. The class will include cutting, coloring and finishing in the traditional way.

Cost of the class is $15 and one community service credit may be earned.

The Pioneer Arts and Crafts Program is funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, and Northern Nevada Community College.

For further information call Bev Copley at 738-7948.

Storytelling Workshop Planned

A two-day workshop for persons working with pre-school through primary age children will be held at Northern Nevada Community College February 11 and 12.

Elko's Head Start Program is cooperating with the college Child Development Department to present the workshop entitled "Physical Movement Experiences and Storytelling for Young Children."

The workshop will be held Friday afternoon, Feb. 11, from 1 to 5, and Saturday, Feb. 12, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the college library. The workshop may be taken for one hour credit.

Friday's program will feature Beulah Swanson of McDermitt presenting methods and techniques of storytelling and fingerplays. Saturday's program will be on methods of physical and creative movements geared to the individual child as taught by Myra McPherson, therapist, Nevada City, Calif.

Registration will be immediately prior to the first session, but reservations for the course should be made with Shari Whipple of Head Start, 738-5953, by Feb. 7.

Knights Roll to Fifth Straight Triumph

TOOELE, UTAH — The Knights of Northern Nevada Community College pushed their winning streak to five games Saturday with an 87-69 victory over the Tooele, Utah, army base.

Five Knight scorers landed in double figures as coach Fred Fogo's team upped its record to 5-8. Wade Wright led the way with 22 points, Bob Regnier followed with 14, Ron Marrujo had 13 and Pat Burner scored 16 before being ejected with three technical fouls midway through the second half.

The losers got 23 from Ray Martin and 18 from Guy Bush.

"They were big, but a little slow, and our quickness finally got 'em," said Fogo. "Wade Wright had another real fine game, and Bill Hassett really did a job for us on the boards."

Hassett, who scored eight points, pulled down a game-high 10 rebounds. Marrujo had seven.

Northern Nevada finds itself with a chance to pull within a game of the 500 mark this weekend when it visits the Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps Center for games Friday and Saturday. Clearfield was the Knights' second and third victim in their winning streak last week.

NORTHERN NEVADA (87) — Regnier 7 0-0 14, Marrujo 4 1-1 13, Burner 7 2-2 14, Wright 5 4-6 22, Cornu 2 0-0 4, Perry 4 2-2 10, Hassett 4 0-0 8, Smales 0 0-0 0, Sullivan 0 0-0 0. Totals 39 9-11 87.

N. Nevada 103 Tooele, Utah 83

TOOELE, Utah — Northern Nevada Community College wore down an older Tooele Army Depot team and won 103-83 Friday night.

Tooele led early in the game, "but we were younger and quicker," said Northern Nevada coach Fred Fogo. "And Wade Wright was deadly for us. I think he only missed two shots — he looked like Elgin Baylor."

Wright made 11 field goals and finished with 27 points. Matt Burner added 21 and Bob Regnier 23.

NORTHERN NEVADA (103) — Regnier 11 1-2 23, Marrujo 3 2-3 8, Burner 10 1-2 21, Wright 11 5-6 27, Cornu 1 0-2 2, C. Perry 5 0-2 10, Hassett 2 2-4 6, Smales 1 0-2 2, Sullivan 2 0-0 4. Totals 45 11-23 103.

Halftime score — Northern Nevada 51 Tooele 42. Total fouls — Northern Nevada 20, Tooele 15. Fouled out — Marrujo. Technical fouls — Wright, Burner.

Knights Win Two; Win Skein 5 in Row

Feb. 1, 77

Northern Nevada Community College improved its season record to 5-8 with a pair of basketball victories over the weekend in Tooele, Utah.

The Knights defeated Tooele Army Depot, 103-83, on Friday and on Saturday won 87-69 to push their winning streak to five straight.

Wade Wright paced the Knights in the weekend series dumping in 49 points in the two games. Rob Regnier and Matt Burner had 37 points each, Ron Marrujo had 21 and Cole Perry had 20.

Marrujo and Bill Hassett did yeoman work on the boards.

In Friday's victory, Wright had 27 points, Regnier had 23, Burner had 21 and Perry had 10.

On Saturday, Wright had 22 points, Burner, 16; Regnier, 14; Marrujo, 13, and Perry, 10.

Knights' coach Fred Fogo praised his team for its recent win streak, noting the team was winning without its biggest player, 6-7 Andy Erickson, who has missed the last four games with a broken thumb.

This weekend, the Knights will travel to Utah, to meet the Clearfield Job Corps. Last week, NNCC took a pair of wins from the Clearfield squad.

Northern Nevada will conclude its home season on Feb. 11 and 12, hosting Tooele in a Friday night, Saturday afternoon series in the junior high school gymnasium.

After the Tooele series next weekend, the Knights will wrap up the year on the road, against Treasure Valley Community College in Ontario, Ore.; and the College of Eastern Utah at Ely.

Rodeo Team To Compete In Brawley

Competing in an NIRA rodeo at Imperial Valley College in Brawley, Calif., Feb. 12 and 13 will be five members of the Northern Nevada Community College rodeo team.

Bill Zunino, who recently joined the team, will enter calf roping and team roping events with Jerry Jones as a partner for the latter event. Jones will also compete in the bareback bronc riding event.

Last year's regional saddle bronc champion, Vince Garcia, will be entered in three events — saddle bronc, bareback and bull riding.

Rounding out the five-man team are Mitch Heguy and Dennis Sam, who will be participating in the bareback riding. Heguy recently copped top honors in that event at Arizona Western College, Yuma.

Pesticide Applicator Schools Set

"When the EPA mandate came out concerning restricted use pesticides and what would be required of those wishing to apply them, we interpreted it as an order and got busy."

This was the brief explanation provided by Dr. Harry Smith when asked why Nevada's Restricted Use Pesticide Applicator Training School Program appears to be progressing well ahead of other states.

Dr. Smith, who is Cooperative Extension Pesticide Specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Nevada and coordinator of the schools pointed out that so far some 1200 Nevadans have attended the schools with about 975 of these receiving certification.

"To my knowledge," Dr. Smith said, "I don't know of any other state that has certified anyone as yet, though training schools have been held in other areas."

The EPA order which came out in 1975, was to designate particular chemicals as restricted use pesticides. The applying or supervision of application of these could only be done by persons, both commercial and private, who had been properly certified according to the regulations. The schools inaugurated by Dr. Smith and the University in cooperation with the Nevada State Department of Agriculture were designed to train applicators for certification.

Dr. Smith said that some 17 schools have been presented in Nevada since late 1975. Two more general schools are planned for this spring with a special program to be conducted at the Elko Community College. A general school is planned for Reno on March 22 and 23 with the place to be announced. Later, on May 24-25, a school will be held in Las Vegas with the tentative site, the Showboat. The special training at the Community College will extend over six sessions, each three hours long, during the evenings of February 9-16-23 and March 2-9-16.

When the EPA order was first announced, Dr. Smith explained, applicators were to be certified by October of 1976. Later, the EPA extended this to October of 1977. In the interim, there has been no change in pesticide use with anyone able to apply acceptable materials. "A list of restricted use pesticides has not yet been prepared," Dr. Smith said.

The over 900 persons in Nevada already certified will have proper credentials when the October 1977 date arrives. Their certificates are good for five years but must be renewed each year. This requires no more than would renewal of car licenses. Those certified will be notified by the State Department of Agriculture and will send in their application for renewal.

Solar Handbook Available

A handbook on the design and construction of solar heating systems for residences and small commercial buildings recently published by the Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) is available in the Learning Resources Center at Northern Nevada Community College, Elko.

This handbook is intended as a guide for engineers, architects and individuals familiar with heating and ventilating applications who wish to design a solar heating system. Although the publication was designed for the Pacific Coast Region, the information contained in the book applies to areas of Nevada that have climates similar to the various regions described in the publication.

One of the main purposes of the handbook is to enable the designer to determine the size of the collector array for an active space heating system. There are also brief discussions of swimming pool heaters, heat pumps, and reflectors which are currently economically feasible uses of solar energy.

The handbook was prepared for ERDA by the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, Solar Energy Group, Los Alamos, New Mexico.

Needlepoint Classes Scheduled at NNCC

Classes in Graphic Needlepoint will be offered at Northern Nevada Community College beginning Wednesday evening, Feb. 9, from 7 to 10 p.m. and Thursday, Feb. 10, from 9 a.m. to noon.

The classes will be for 10 weeks and will be held in the Child Development Lab of the Learning Resource Building. The cost is $20 and for those interested, two community service credits are available.

Kay Thompson, reportedly well known in the community for her talents in hand stitchery, will teach the classes. She said there will be something for both beginners and advanced students.

Beginners will be exposed to many aspects of basic needlepoint, including half-cross, continental and basket weave stitches and blocking. The beginner and advanced student will be offered Borgello, quiet patterns and other forms of graphic needlepoint.

Mrs. Thompson also will be teaching a class in Crewel Point for both the beginning and advanced student. Crewel point deals with decorative embroidery.

Doll House Class Offered

For all mothers, grandmothers, sisters or dads and brothers who delight in the happiness of little girls, a class in Doll House Construction will start Monday evening at Northern Nevada Community College.

The class will be taught by DeeAnn Hurd of Toie 'N' Oil in Elko. Mrs. Hurd said there will be a selection of five different, scaled down floor plans, and styles and each student will design and create a doll house from one of the five models.

If this class is successful, Mrs. Hurd said she will offer a Doll House Furniture class in the fall.

The Doll House class will be offered each Monday evening from 7 to 10 p.m., starting Feb. 7, this Monday. The class will be held in room 12 of the Learning Resource Building at the college.

Cost of the course is $25 plus supplies, and each student wishing to earn two community service credits.

The Pioneers Arts and Crafts class is another project funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts and Northern Nevada Community College.

For further information please contact Bev Copley at 738-7948 or DeeAnn Hurd at 738-7661.

Pesticide Class Offered

Pesticide safe use and proper application will be offered at the Northern Nevada Community College in Elko on Wednesday nights, February 9, 16, 23 and March 2, 9 and 16, at 7 p.m. in Room 18 in the Library Building.

The Pesticide Applicators Training is sponsored by the Elko County Extension Service and Nevada State Department of Agriculture.

The class should be of interest to anyone working with agriculture, industrial and home garden chemicals says Irving Hackett, Elko County Agent.

For those that wish to become certified pesticide applicators, examinations will be available at the last class period.

Many people that work with pesticides will need to be certified or supervised by a certified person in order to use many insect, weed and fungus killing compounds in the future, states Hackett.

Even if a person does not plan to use toxic chemicals, this class is designed to teach understanding of agricultural chemicals, their use and effect on the environment.

Examinations will be offered for pesticide applicator certification in the following areas: Livestock, Crops, Aquatic weed control, Ornamentals, Forest Turf, Seed Treatment, Right-of-Ways, Industrial, Institutional and Health, Public Health, Regulatory, Predator and Mosquito.

Instructors for the course will be Dr. Harry Smith, Extension Pesticide Specialist, University of Nevada; Larry Blalock, Pesticide Specialist and Harry Wilcox, Agriculturist, both of the Nevada State Department of Agriculture; Bob Lauderdale, Extension Entomologist, University of Nevada; and Dr. Harry Guenther, Extension Agronomy Specialist, University of Idaho.

Knights Split With Clearfield Job Corps

Northern Nevada Community College's Knights had their five-game winning string snapped Friday night in Utah by the Clearfield Job Corps, but the local squad bounced back on Saturday to defeat the Utah team, 88-65, for the third time in four meetings this season.

The weekend split gives the Knights a 6-9 season record with their final home series of the year coming up this weekend at the junior high school gymnasium.

The Knights, who have compiled a 6-2 record since the second semester got under way, will close out their home season on Friday and Saturday against the Tooele, Utah, Army Depot team. Game times will be 8 p.m. on Friday and 1 p.m. on Saturday.

Rob Regnier paced NNCC in Saturday's victory by popping in 33 points. He was backed by Wade Wright who netted 24 points and Ron Marrujo who had 11.

The Knights outscored the host Clearfield team, 49-30, over the final 20 minutes of play after holding a slim 39-35 halftime advantage.

Al Green paced Clearfield with 20 points, Jones added 15 points, Snow 12 and Yates 10.

In Friday's game, Clearfield hit at a 70 percent clip from the field over the second half to erase a 46-42 NNCC halftime lead and snap the Knight's win streak, 90-84.

Snow led Clearfield and took game honors with 36 points, Jones added 24 and Green had 18 points.

For NNCC, Wright was high with 22 points, Regnier added 20, Matt Burner had 16, Marrujo, 12, and Andy Erickson had 10.

NNCC coach Fred Fogo pointed out today that team members Bill Hassett and Rick Cornu did not make the trip and noted, "they might have made the difference. Both have been playing well for us and we got tired Friday night." He also said that Andy Erickson, making his first appearance in several weeks due to a broken thumb, looked good in the games.

The team got a first during the weekend, when the high-leaping Marrujo got the team's initial "stuff" of the year in Saturday's victory, Fogo said.

NNCC (84) — Regnier 10-0-1 20; Burner 7 2-2 16; Marrujo 5 3-2 12; Wright 11 6-4 22; Perry 2-0-4; Erickson 5-0-0 16. TOTALS: 40 4-8 84.

CLEARFIELD (86) — Snow 16 4-4 36; Jones 11 3-3 34; Smith 1 0-0-2; Yates 2 0-0-4; Green 10-0-18; J. Butler 2-0-4; Vartack 1-0-2. TOTALS: 42 6-0 86.

NNCC (88) — Regnier 16 1-3 33; Burner 3 2-2 8; Marrujo 5 1-4 11; Wright 12 6-4 24; Erickson 3 0-0-6; Smales 0 0-0-0. TOTALS: 42 4-9 88.

CLEARFIELD (65) — Snow 4 4-4 12; Jones 6 3-7 15; Smith 2 0-0-4; Yates 5 6-0-18; Green 10-0-20; Britt 0-0-0; Vartack 2-0-4. TOTALS: 38 7-14 65.

Regnier Scores 33 For Knights

CLEARFIELD, Utah — Bob Regnier scored 33 points to lead Northern Nevada Community College to an 88-65 romp over the Clearfield Job Corps Center Saturday night.

It was the fourth meeting of the season between the two teams. Northern Nevada has won three of the four.

Wade Wright added 24 points for the Knights. Al Green scored 20 for Clearfield.

"As long as we keep winning, I don't care who we're playing or if we're playing the same team a hundred times," Knight coach Fred Fogo said.

"We'd schedule a wheelchair team if we could get a win."

The Knights are 6-9 for the season.

NORTHERN NEVADA (88) — Regnier 16 1-3 33; Burner 3 2-2 8; Marrujo 5 1-4 11; Wright 12 6-4 24; Erickson 3 0-0-6; Perry 2 0-0-4; Smales 0 0-0-0; Sullivan 1 0-0-2. TOTALS: 42 4-9 88.

CLEARFIELD (65) — Snow 4 4-4 12; Jones 6 3-7 15; Smith 2 0-0-4; Yates 5 6-0-18; Green 10 0-0-20; Britt 0 0-0-0; Vartack 2 0-0-4. TOTALS: 29 7-14 65.

Halftime score — Northern Nevada 39 Clearfield 25. Total fouls — Northern Nevada 24, Clearfield 12. Fouled out — none. Technical fouls — Clearfield bench.

Knights Close Home Season This Weekend

Northern Nevada Community College's Knights, winners of six of their last eight games, will close their home basketball schedule this weekend by hosting the team from the Tooele, Utah, Army Depot at the junior high school gymnasium.

Game times are scheduled for 8 p.m. on Friday and 1 p.m. on Saturday.

Admission to both games is free and a spokesman for the college urged the townspeople to show up and support the team, which is in the midst of its best season ever.

The Knights have chalked up a 6-9 record this season and, despite being short of players, had a five-game winning streak entering last weekend's games with the Clearfield, Utah, Job Corps team. The Knights fell 90-84 on Friday but bounced back to win 88-65 on Saturday.

Pacing the team in its recent winning ways have been Rob Regnier, Wade Wright, Ron Marrujo and Matt Burner. Another plus has been the return of the team's tallest player 6-7 Andy Erickson from a broken thumb.

The college has also planned several special events to make the weekend series more enjoyable for the local fans.

On Friday night at halftime there will be a cake giveaway with tickets on sale at the door, plus there will be a couple of door prizes — a box of Valentine candy and dinner for two at the Nevada Dinner House — given away.

On Saturday, following the completion of the NNCC-Army Depot game, there will be a volleyball game between a team made up of college students and a team representing the college faculty and staff.

Knights Host Tooele Tonight

Northern Nevada Community College's Knights and the Tooele, Utah, Army Depot collide tonight at 8 in the junior high gymnasium in the first of a two-game basketball series that will conclude the Knight's 1976-77 home schedule.

The Knights, who have won six of their past eight games, defeated the Utah team earlier this season in a series at Tooele and will be aiming at getting closer to the .500 mark for the year in this weekend's contests. NNCC is 6-9 on the year.

Tomorrow's series finale is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. at the junior high gym.

In addition to basketball, those attending the last home series will be given a chance to win door prizes and cakes and will also get to see a volleyball game featuring a team of NNCC students against a team made up of college faculty and staff.

Admission to this weekend's games is free.

Knights Beat Tooele For 3rd Straight Win

Ron Marrujo dropped in 27 points and hauled down 12 rebounds Saturday to pace Northern Nevada Community College to a 87-61 victory over the Tooele, Utah, Army Depot in a basketball game played at the Elko Junior High gymnasium.

The victory was the Knight's third straight and eighth in their last nine games. Northern Nevada is now 8-0 for the season with three games left. This weekend the Knights will travel to Ontario, Ore., to take on Treasure Valley, which holds a pair of victories over NNCC, achieved in the season-opening series here.

The team's final game of the year will be Feb. 26, against College of Eastern Utah and will be played in Ely.

The Saturday victory was achieved as the Knights, once again, played shorthanded. The game was played early Saturday morning and starter Wade Wright was unable to take part and 6-7 Andy Erickson injured a knee on Friday and was unavailable.

Coach Fred Fogo said today, he was "proud of his team, as they played good ball." He said the game was pretty ragged, but noted his team rallied after the score was tied with three minutes to go to win. He said the play of Marrujo "was excellent."

Rob Regnier backed Marrujo with 13 points and Matt Burner added 11. For Tooele, Bush and Martin had 19 points each.

TOOELE (61) — Bush 8-3 19; Martin 7-5 19; Thomas 2-1 5; Newton 2-0 4; Connelly 4-1-1 9; Delgado 1-1 2 3; Frilly 1-0-0 2. TOTALS: 25 11-14 61.

NNCC (87) — Regnier 4-7 13; Burner 5-11 11; Marrujo 8-11-14 27; Perry 2-0-4; Smales 0-0-0; Hassett 3-3-0 9; Cornu 1-1-2 3. TOTALS: 23 21-39 67.

NNCC Wins, 88-73

Northern Nevada Community College jumped out to a 22-10 lead early in the first half and coasted to a 88-73 victory over the Tooele Army Depot in a game played in the junior high gym last night.

With the win, the Knights upped their record to 7-9. The two teams were to square off again this morning at 10 a.m. in the old gym.

NNCC basketball coach Fred Fogo said he sent in the second team with 12 minutes remaining in the first half, and said everybody on the team had lots of playing time.

Matt Burner was high scorer for the Knights as he tossed in 18 points on eight field goals and two free throws.

Wade Wright had 17 points for the Knights, while Rob Regnier scored 12 and Bill Hassett tallied 11.

Fogo praised the efforts of center Andy Erickson, and said he played well even though the score sheet showed only five points. Fogo said his big man had several questionable goal-tending calls go against him and that he rebounded well.

Erickson suffered a knee injury and it is questionable if he will play today.

TOOELE (73) — Best 4, 5-7, 21; Bush, 2, 0-0, 4; Martin, 7, 5-5, 19; Connelly, 3, 3-4, 9; Thomas, 2, 1-3, 5; Newton, 4, 1-3, 9; Medina, 0, 0-0, 0; Delgado, 2, 0-1, 4; Frilly, 1, 0-1, 2. TOTALS: 23 15-26 73.

N. Nevada 88 Tooele 73

ELKO Northern Nevada Community College overcame four technical fouls Friday night to defeat Tooele (Utah) Army Depot 88-73 at Elko Junior High School.

Matt Burner paced the Knights to their seventh victory in 16 starts with an 18-point effort, while Wade Wright added 17 points, Bob Regnier chipped in with 12 and Bill Hassett scored 11.

The same two teams square off this morning at 10.

TOOELE (73) — Best 0 5-7 21; Bush 2 0-0 4; Martin 7 5-5 19; Thomas 2 1-3 5; Newton 4 1-3 9; Connelly 3 3-4 9; Medina 0 0-0 0; Delgado 2 0-1 4; Frilly 1 0-1 2. TOTALS: 23 15-26 73.

Test Set Saturday

The next testing date for the Career Planning Profile (CPP) is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 12. It will be held in the Voc Tech building at Northern Nevada Community College commencing at 8 a.m. and ending at 12 noon. There is a fee of $5.75 for this test.

The examination is not given to screen out or reject students, as there is no possible way to fail the examination, an NNCC spokesman said. The purpose of the examination is to provide better program and career guidance for the college's students.

The CPP is an admission requirement for the Nursing and Business program.

Students in other programs may take the test to aid them in vocational placement. Persons should contact the Student Services Office at 738-8493 ext. 25 if they have any questions.

Garcia Ties for 1st Place

Northern Nevada Community College's Vince Garcia, last year's regional champion, tied for first in the saddle bronc event at the Imperial Valley College sponsored NIRA Rodeo held in Brawley, Calif., Feb. 12-13. He had a score of 71.

A total of 22 colleges with 205 contestants took part in the event.

Mitch Heguy of NNCC rode his stock but his marking of 63, left him one point short of placing in the standings.

NNCC's Bill Zunino had a time of 21 seconds in the second go-round of the calf roping event, but did not place. The top time in the go-round was 8.1 seconds.

Another area rider, Joe Marvel of Battle Mountain, a student at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, finished fifth in the saddle bronc event.

Northern Nevada's next rodeo will be at Fresno, Calif., on March 12-13.

Meeting At College Tonight

Feb. 22, 77

An informational meeting in the ancient Ukrainian art of decorating Easter Eggs will be held tonight at 7:36 in the Child Development Laboratory of the Learning Resource Building at Northern Nevada Community College.

Bev Copley of the Pioneer Arts and Crafts program at the college said the meeting will describe the ancient art and will give those interested the opportunity to order materials.

After the materials arrive, she said, a three-hour workshop with an actual instructional and doing situation is scheduled for March 24. She said if more time is needed the class will be extended. Cost is $5 plus supplies.

The program is another project of the Pioneer Arts and Crafts program and is funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts and Northern Nevada Community College.

Small Business Workshop Set in Winnemucca

*Humboldt
Feb. 22, 77*

A daylong workshop for those in or planning to engage in small business will be conducted in Winnemucca by the Small Business Administration (SBA) on March 31.

The workshop, coordinated locally by Lois Craver of Northern Nevada Community College, will be held in the multipurpose room of Humboldt County Library. Earl Lord of the SBA's Las Vegas office will chair the seminar.

Speaking during the day on various specialized aspects of small business will be:

Ronald Clark, "Organizing and Planning the Small Business."

Joe Jamello, "Planning Financial Needs."

Richard Legarza, "Legal Aspects of Small Business."

Mike Sunderland, "Advertising Needs of Small Business."

Winston Farmer, "Accounting and Record Keeping."

Darrell Taylor and Russ Alderman, "Insurance for a Small Business."

More information on the workshop will be forthcoming closer in time to the event, Mrs. Craver said.

Feb. 26, 77

OWYHEE — The Northern Nevada Community College courses at Owyhee are proving popular with the community. Janet Weeks, teacher for the two sewing classes, reports an excellent attendance. The advanced sewing class, meeting every Thursday in the Home Ec room of the high school, includes Luanne Gillette, Pauline Smith, Rita Herrera, Ilene Premo, Geraldine Jones, Donna Hanks, Marie Thomas, and two from Mountain City, Jan Connelly and Karan Mori. The beginner's class, meeting every Tuesday, includes Deb Tom, LaTonne Tom, Althea Brady, Ivora Shaw, Delores Cummins and Elena Smith.

Jim Blattman, the area coordinator for the college, reports that Indians are government funded for the course, called a "Grant in Aid," which amounts to 80 per cent of the fee. Non-Indians pay $30 for the 15 week, 3 hour class.

College Riders Ranked

Mar. 3, 77

Mitch Heguy of Northern Nevada Community College is listed as the third-ranked bareback bronc rider after the first three rodeos of the 1977 season according to information released by Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo.

NNCC's Jerry Jones is the fifth-ranked bareback rider, according to the standings, which do not include the rodeo at Brawley, Calif., on Feb. 12-13.

Joe Marvel of Battle Mountain, a student at Cal Poly, is the third-ranked saddle bronc rider. John Johnson of University of Nevada, Reno, is the fifth-rated steer wrestler.

In the men's team standings, Cal Poly is first; Central Arizona, second; Cal State Fresno, third; and University of Arizona and Hartnell of California are tied for fourth.

The women's team standings: first, Arizona; second, Central Arizona; third, Cal Poly; fourth, Northern Arizona; fifth, Cal State Fresno.

There are six rodeos remaining this spring.

16 Pass CPR Class Held Here

Mar. 10

Sixteen persons passed the American Heart CPR Basic Rescuer Course, held at Northern Nevada Community College. Instructing the class were Karen Mowrey and Ray Hinkle.

Representatives from the Carlin Ambulance and Fire Department, Spring Creek Fire Department, Elko Fire Department, Elko Ambulance Service and the Elko County Jeep Search and Rescue Squad were in attendance.

Those certified by the Heart Association were: Pamela Bradshaw, Robert Stolte, Rob Crookham, Bethanne Upshaw, Allen Upshaw, Bill Webb, Ray Cash, Cindy Bush, Floyd Denna, Faith Feasel, David Emerson, Mary Lou Ashe, Joseph Borralho, Sharon Borralho, Edward Walker, Blaine Mowrey.

The next CPR class will be taught March 12 at the community college to members of the Elko Fire Department.

Charles Bailew, chairman of the local Heart group, said "These classes are taught free of charge by volunteers who have given many hours of their time. It is necessary to hold classes for eight hours on one day as Elko does not own equipment needed and must borrow from the Reno Heart Committee for each class. We hope to acquire the needed material some day."

Soap Class Set At College

Mar. 5, 77

By Bev Copley

"It's just that easy," said Lenore Rush on the art of making soap. This will be the subject of a free workshop offered as part of the Pioneer Arts and Crafts program at Northern Nevada Community College on Tuesday morning at 9. The class will last approximately three hours and will be held in Room 12 of the Learning Resource Building.

"Our pioneer settlers always made their own soap by pouring hot water over wood ashes to make an alkali called potash," she said. "They then boiled the potash with animal fats to make the soap." The soap did a fair cleaning job, but often was harsh and had an unpleasant odor, she explained.

Mrs. Rush plans to demonstrate the making of both bar and granulated types of soap, and as an added attraction, the making of a beauty soap using lye, shortening, coconut and olive oil and scents.

This workshop is made possible by a grant funded by the Nevada State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts and Northern Nevada Community College.

For further information, contact Bev Copley at 738-7948. No supplies will be needed for this class.

BILL ZUNINO (left) is shown receiving Northern Nevada Community College Rodeo Club's first scholarship from faculty advisor Stan Alazzi. Zunino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Zunino, Jiggs, was chosen recipient for the Spring Semester, 1977. He is a 1976 graduate of Elko High School and is majoring in agriculture at NNCC and began his college studies this semester. He placed sixth in the National High School finals last year at Sulfer, La., and Alazzi points out his roping ability adds a new dimension to the NNCC Rodeo Team. Zunino's high school awards include All Around Champion of the Rodeos at Fallon, Winnemucca and Owyhee in 1975 and 76. (College photo)

College Officials Renew Criticism

CARSON CITY (AP) — Nevada community college officials renewed criticism today of Gov. Mike O'Callaghan's proposed budget and urged the Senate Finance Committee to restore big cuts he made in their spending plans.

Dr. Marvin Sedway, chairman of the advisory council for the Clark County Community College, said "this budget is punitive...it's an impossible budget."

Sedway said the governor's recommendation is for $970 for each full time student in Clark County next year but that's less than the amount this year and well under the national community college average of $1,460.

Sedway, Grant Anderson of Fernley who is chairman of the Western Nevada Community College Advisory Commission, and Dr. Hugh Collett, chairman of the Northern Nevada Community College in Elko, all asked that more money go into their systems.

O'Callaghan is recommending the community college division administration be put under the University of Nevada chancellor's office and that the staff be cut by 10 positions.

The present biennial spending program of the college system is $15.8 million, and the governor wants it to go to $19 million in the coming two years.

Both Collett and Anderson said the present facilities should be improved rather than having more such colleges built around the state.

Anderson, asked about O'Callaghan's recommendation for a new community college building in Fallon, said "I wonder if it would be wise, considering the things that are needed in other centers."

Finance Committee members said they were worried about proliferation of new community college buildings. Chairman Floyd Lamb, D-Las Vegas, said the community college budget has jumped from $175,000 to $8 million in six years.

"I don't think you can be all things to all people," Lamb told the officials. He added committee members did not believe the system "can run amok. You can't have one in every little town."

The committee took no action on the request to restore the cuts made by the governor in the system's budget.

Gardening Class Scheduled

A new Pioneer Arts and Crafts class concerning gardening in this area will hold its first meeting on Monday from 7-9 p.m. in the Child Development Lab of the Learning Resource Building at Northern Nevada Community College.

The cost of the class will be $10 plus cost of supplies, which will be shared. The course offers one community service credit.

The class will be taught by Lea Bass, who has had many "best of class" vegetables and flowers at the Elko County Fair.

The class will be informational in seed selection, indoor starts, cold framing, soil preparation, irrigation and composts; and there will be actual planting on land donated for class use by the college.

The class is made possible by a grant from the Nevada State Council on the Arts, the National Endowment for the Arts and NNCC.

Those desiring further information can contact Bev Copley at 738-7948.

Propose To Make Community Colleges Independent Entities

State Senators Norman Glaser and Gene Echols have joined in a proposal to make the community college system completely autonomous and separate from the University of Nevada Board of Regents.

Echols, a longtime supporter of the community college system, who has been critical of Governor Mike O'Callaghan's efforts to cut the system's administration budget, said Monday that he and Glaser would introduce a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to create a separate governing board for community college.

"The time has come for two separate boards," Echols said. "The community colleges and the university system are two different concepts in education."

Glaser, the resolution's primary sponsor, agreed with Echols and added that the regents are oriented towards the "four-year university concept of education" rather than the two-year vocational-technical concept of the community colleges.

"This proposal is aimed at returning the community colleges to the original concept and getting away from the idea of using them as a junior college for the universities," Glaser said.

Echols said that in addition to the resolution calling for the constitutional amendment, the two senators also plan to introduce a bill designed to accomplish the same goal because it is still unclear which legislative tactic would have the best chance to succeed.

Youth Meeting Under Way

The Second Annual Governor's Youth Conference will be held today and tomorrow at the Tonopah Convention Center.

The conference begins with registration this afternoon and a dance tonight. Final meetings will be held tomorrow.

Governor Mike O'Callaghan will be tonight's banquet speaker; and Lt. Gov. Robert Rose will speak at tomorrow's luncheon.

A total of 14 Elko County delegates will attend. They include: Karen Jevas, Elko; Steve Sargeant, Elko; Pam Phillips, Elko; Dan Mawson, Elko; Edward Ezzell, Betsy Holt and Casey Fagoaga, from Northern Nevada Community College; Tim Sirotek, Carlin; Rich Embry, Elko; Sue Howell Wells; Steve Moschetti, Wells; Rachael Shaw, Owyhee; Brian Rizzi, Owyhee; Lynn Smith, Elko. Delegation supervisors will be Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rosolo and Carley Sullivan of Elko.

Second Horseshoeing Class Set

Northern Nevada Community College is sponsoring another horseshoeing class with registration slated for next Wednesday, March 23, at 7 p.m.

Chuck Evans, instructor, has announced registration will be in room 7VT at the college and classes will meet every Wednesday and Thursday night from 7 to 10 p.m.

The first two classes will be held at the college and the final four weeks of the class will be at the sale barn at the fairgrounds.

"Students completing the class will understand the basic theory of horseshoeing and will have successfully shod at least two horses," Evans said.

Students are encouraged to bring their own tools if they have them.

Three women and 12 men recently completed the first class and were awarded certificates of accomplishment.

The class is limited to 15 persons and cost is $30 per person. Students earn two credits for the 30-hour class. The first 15 people to register will be accepted for the course.

Business Workshop Slated by Chamber

Elko area residents have been invited to attend a "businessmen's workshop" to be conducted Monday evening at the Holiday Inn, under the sponsorship of the Elko Chamber of Commerce.

Chari Edwards, chamber manager, said the workshop will start at 7 p.m. and will feature participation by representatives of Northern Nevada Community College, the U.S. Small Business Administration and the Nevada Department of Economic Development.

Included on the agenda will be discussions based on a survey of community attitudes toward local businesses conducted last year by representatives of the Elko college.

Other aspects of operating a successful small business in Elko will be covered during the workshop, Mrs. Edwards reported.

She said all residents of the area, whether businessmen or not, will be welcomed at the Monday evening gathering.

College Program Mar 23 11 Tomorrow

Issuing high school diplomas based on competency will be the subject of Thursday's meeting of the Northern Nevada Campus Women's group.

The meeting is scheduled for noon in the college library, and campus women members and the public is invited.

Speakers for tomorrow's program will include Ted Burner, co-ordinator of the Elko County Adult High School Program and Amy Emerson, a developmental instructor.

Cheryl Davies, program director, said some of the ideas to be discussed are competency based high school diplomas and what some other states are doing about them.

She said Oregon, Texas and New York have gone to a competency system for issuing high school diplomas, and that California is considering it, as is the Nevada legislature.

Mrs. Davies added that the Nevada Department of Education is researching the issue.

A question and answer session is to follow the presentation. A short business meeting will be included in the session.

Class On Horses Scheduled

Care and management of horses is being stressed in a five-week agriculture class which begins Wednesday, April 13, at Northern Nevada Community College.

Mary Branscomb will instruct the first session on horse safety to include catching, leading, grooming and buying a horse, practical horse psychology as well as managing the horse in stables and stalls.

Horse nutrition will be instructed by Dr. Earl L. Drake, veterinarian, University of Nevada, Reno, during the second session. Chuck Evans, horseshoeing instructor at NNCC, will present hoof care April 27.

The final classes will be health and diseases taught by Dr. Bruce Branscomb, DVM.

The class will be from 7 to 10 p.m. on five consecutive Wednesdays. Registration will be during the first class in room VT 6 and 7, Northern Nevada Community College. Registration fee for the one-credit class is $10.50.

Want to Go Into Business? ...

Small Business Workshop March 31 at the Library

Registration is open now for a one-day workshop in Winnemucca next Thursday designed to assist those planning on going into business. The workshop is sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration through the assistance of several local businessmen, and is co-sponsored by the Winnemucca Center of Northern Nevada Community College.

The seminar will begin at 9 a.m., Mar. 31, at the Humboldt County Library, and will finish at 3:30 p.m.

Speaking during the day on various specialized aspects of conducting a small business will be:

Ronald Clark, accountant for General Electric's operations at Tungsten Mine, on "Organizing and Planning the Small Business."

Joe Jamello, Mayor of Winnemucca and assistant vice president of Nevada National Bank, on "Planning Financial Needs."

Richard Legarza, Winnemucca city attorney, on "Legal Aspects of Small Business."

Michael Sunderland, editor of the Humboldt Sun and vice president of Winnemucca Publishing Co., Inc., on "Advertising Needs of a Small Business."

Winston Farmer, H & R Block agent in Winnemucca, on "Accounting and Record Keeping."

Darrell Taylor and Russ Alderman, Winnemucca insurance agents, on "Insurance for a Small Business."

Earl Lord, management assistance officer from SBA's Las Vegas office, arranged for the workshop and will preside over the sessions.

Robert S. Garrett, district SBA director, said, "The purpose of the program is to point out three major factors to prospective small business men and women: the ability to determine critically whether or not they should go into business; a knowledge of the fundamental principles of running a business; and a list of the sources of information and assistance available to them in starting and operating their own business."

There is no charge for attending the workshop. Those wishing to register or seeking more information may call Lois Craver, NNCC extension director, at 623-3624.

Community College Scholarships Set

CARSON CITY — Dr. Charles Donnelly, president of the Nevada community college division, announced that $30,000 has been provided by the Fleischmann Foundation for scholarships at the three Nevada community colleges. The 1977 Max C. Fleischmann Foundation Nevada Community College Scholarship Program will be administered by the Nevada Department of Education.

Each scholarship will provide the recipient with up to $500 for the 1977-78 school year. These funds are to be utilized for school expenditures which are classified as tuition and fees, books, school supplies, living subsistence, and transportation.

To be eligible as a recipient for a 1977 Fleischmann community college scholarship, a candidate must be a United States citizen, a resident of the State of Nevada, and be accepted as a full-time student in an occupational service program for the 1977-78 school year in one of the three community colleges in Nevada. Financial need shall be considered equal to the other factors mentioned, but not a requisite for a scholarship.

A selection committee at each college, Clark County Community College, Northern Nevada Community College and Western Nevada Community College, will select the recipients for its respective college. Applications are available at the community colleges, Nevada high schools, and the Nevada Department of Education. The deadline for submitting applications is June 1, 1977.

Little Theater Play Slated April 14-16

"An absorbing study of marital turbulence which was a television milestone when presented on CBS Playhouse will be performed next month by Northern Nevada Little Theatre," said director Vicki Rossoilo, who announced "Dear Friends" will be presented as a dinner show April 14, 15 and 16 at the Holiday Inn.

Tickets, at $7 per person, are on sale at the business office of Northern Nevada Community College.

Mrs. Rossoilo said the plot involves well-meaning friends who try to unite an estranged couple and in turn reveal the secret ills which beset their marriages. The "dear friends" are played by Colleen Bradshaw, Jon Felker, Karen Haven, Jim Lucas, Tammy Robison, Jim Starr, Teri Vietti and Bill Welch. Tammy Lee, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lee, will also be in the cast.

Other productions of the Little Theatre group have included "White House," "Black Comedy," and "Come Blow Your Horn."

Bloodmobile To Be In Elko This Week

Terry Hickson
Hospital Publicist

What happens to your blood when you give to the Red Cross Bloodmobile?

Elko General Hospital is the Red Cross Blood Bank center for this area and is affiliated with the Intermountain Red Cross Blood Center in Salt Lake City.

When donations are received locally, they go to the Salt Lake City facility. From there blood is shipped routinely to Elko by Wycoff, a local trucking firm.

Emergency shipping is done by bus. The Nevada Highway Patrol has many times assisted with local needs. In emergencies where the blood is needed sooner, it can be flown from Salt Lake City.

Once received, a donation is stored at 4 to 6 degrees Centigrade in a special refrigerator. It is inspected daily for signs of deterioration.

Shelf life, or the period whole blood may be effectively used, is 21 days.

Blood at the Elko bank is returned to Salt Lake City in time to allow for five days use.

Here it can be separated in a refrigerated centrifuge into serum and cells.

When the shelf life of the whole blood has expired, it can be further broken down into components such as red and white blood cells, platelets, plasma albumin, antihemophilic factor, gamma globulin and other blood-clotting factors.

These components are given to replace or treat specific deficiencies in the blood.

Use of the components rather than whole blood can extend the use of blood donations and eliminate the waste of blood, according to Dr. George T. Manilla, director of the local Blood Bank.

He says that some components may be used for a year or longer after a donation is made.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Elko May 25 and 26 at Northern Nevada Community College.

The Bloodmobile will be open from 3-8 p.m. tomorrow and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Thursday.

Dr. Manilla urges all local residents who can contribute to do so.

"A small percentage of our entire population insures that blood will be available for the whole community."

"Our community owes these blood donors a debt of gratitude," he added.

Dr. Manilla also announced the local goal for the forthcoming visit of the Bloodmobile is 225 pints — not unusual for a community of some 9,000 population.

SARAH ALICE CAMPSEY

Sarah Alice Campsey, of Elko, will receive a Master of Education degree from the University of Utah at the school's 108th commencement exercises on Saturday.

She had earned a BS degree in art education from West Texas State University in 1965.

She has been a teaching fellow at the university this year and a part-time assistant professor at Weber State University in the art department.

She plans to return to Elko following graduation as art professor at Northern Nevada Community College and also become a director of the Nevada Council of the Arts' and National Endowment for the Arts' program of Pioneer Arts and Crafts at the college.

Small Business Workshop

For a person planning on going into business for himself or starting a little business on the side, a one-day workshop set up by the small business administration is being offered here.

The workshop for prospective or new small business owners will be held and co-sponsored by Northern Nevada Community College, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Workshop sessions will be presented by businessmen of Elko, the college and small business administration.

Robert S. Garrett, District Director for the SBA said, "the purpose of the program is to point out three major factors to prospective small businessmen and women, a knowledge of the fundamental principles of running a business, and a list of the sources of information and assistance available to them in starting and operating their own business."

For information and registration on the one-day workshop, persons can contact the Northern Nevada Community College, 901 Elm Street, Elko, Nevada 89801. Telephone 738-8493.

Regents Fighting to Keep 'People's College'

April 12, 77

University officials were ordered Friday to battle two legislative attempts to separate Nevada's community colleges from the University of Nevada System.

The university's regents went on record against two Nevada Senate bills which would split the eight-year-old "people's college" network from the university's Reno and Las Vegas campuses, the Desert Research Institute and other university divisions.

A Senate Human Resources Committee at 9 a.m. hearing Tuesday will consider the legislation — SB 388 and Senate Joint Resolution 16. One other would make the division a constitutional amendment, while the Senate would declare such a move legal.

The bills apparently were pushed by disgruntled community college advocates in Clark County after they weren't allowed to defend the college administration at the regents' January meeting in Las Vegas.

The supporters had appeared before the board to back Charles Donnelly, President of the community college division. Donnelly's recommendation is upheld by the legislature. Donnelly's aides will be nearly wiped out if the governor's executive budget cost cutting and efficiency measure is approved.

Regent chairman James (Bucky) Buchanan tried, but failed, to pin Donnelly down on whether he favored the bills to separate community colleges from the university. Donnelly, who said professionally that a separate system is a more standard way to run community colleges, nevertheless said he has no qualms about the treatment of community colleges) by the current board of regents and Chancellor Humphrey in particular.

Donnelly added he didn't want to testify Tuesday either for or against the legislation, but Buchanan pressed for Donnelly's commitment. The chairman said it wouldn't impress the legislature if the university opposed the move, while the community colleges' chief administrator, Dr. Fyee Anderson of Reno, who was regent chairman when the community college system was formed, said the current arrangement is better. He said community college officials from other states favored Nevada's combination of university and community colleges favored system was organized. He added the system a voids conflicts when the Chancellor, Neil Humphrey, meanwhile, told the board he would oppose of effort between the different branches of higher education.

administration of education in a state this small. He acknowledged, however, that if the legislation seems sure to pass, the university should try to change some of its provisions to correct the date the split would take effect.

Regent John Tom Ross of Carson City criticized the forces behind the bills. He told Donnelly the only reason the legislation came up "is because because you've had your staff out," boards have their noses out of Joint promise with a reorganization. Donnelly attempted to strike a compromise immediately approved the plan with little comment.

(Under the reorganization, which still must be accepted by the legislature — three of Donnelly's principal aides would assume the duties of the staff members due for elimination from his central office.) Eleven of Donnelly's staff members — including clerk-typists and associate deans alike — are due to be dropped from the community college payroll.

College Office Cut Back

April 18, 77

CARSON CITY (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee Thursday approved a budget of more than $18 million to operate Nevada's Community College System for the next two years but decided it would have only a slimmed down administrative office.

Under the committee's recommendation, nine of the 15 positions in the president's office would be eliminated. The president and his secretary would remain and four other account clerks would be eventually transferred to a central business office for the University of Nevada.

Gov. Mike O'Gallaghan had recommended similar action, calling instead for the president and his secretary to be placed under the chancellor of the University of Nevada. But the Finance Committee decided to keep the president's office a separate division of the university. The committee, however, went along with the proposed cuts in the budget.

The committee decided to reduce the recommended $10 million biennial budget for the Clark County Community College by more than $800,000 during the next two years because the enrollment is not expected to grow as fast as initially predicted. However, the committee will set aside $155,000 in case there is an unexpected surge in the number of students attending classes.

The committee agreed also to include extra money to the governor's budget for a dental hygiene program at the Clark County Community College both in construction and operating expenses. Also approved was extra money for the college in North Las Vegas and in Reno for the boosting of programs taught in the rural areas.

Under the budget approved, the spending program at Clark County Community College will go from $7.2 million to about $9.2 million; the Western Nevada Community College from $5.7 million to $7.2 million for the next two years; and, the Northern Nevada Community College in Elko from $1.2 million to $1.5 million.

Other budgets approved for the next two years included $1.4 million for intercollegiate athletics both at the University of Nevada-Reno and in Las Vegas; $3.5 million for the school of medical science and $532,000 to build an addition to the Mackay Stadium in Reno.

The committee also agreed to transfer the office of the state fire marshal under the wing of the state insurance commissioner and reduce its present staff of five to three persons. The effective date is in October when the committee said Fire Marshal Dan Quinan is eligible for retirement. But Quinan said he is not going to retire.

LPN Convention Opens in Reno Today

Apr. 28, 1977

The annual state convention of Nevada Licensed Practical Nurses Association sponsored by division No. 1 began today and runs through Saturday, at the Fitzgerald's Hotel in Reno.

Highlights of the convention are a slide presentation and talks by Dr. Roger Meircourt and Earl Carl Chamberlain, radiological physicist, on nuclear medicine; keynote address by Pauline Wright, LPN president of the National Federation of Licensed Practical Nurses; a conference on legislation and continuing education led by Ellen Pope, Irene Carr and Jean Peavey, R.N., State Board of Nursing.

Sam Roberts, pharmacologist, will address the group on the importance of continuing education in pharmacology for nurses, and Jean Stole, epidermiologist at Washoe Medical Center, will discuss transcutaneous nerve stimulation, a new concept of treatment.

Attending the conference from Elko are: Judy Kudron, vice-president of the state board; Patricia McMasters, state board member; Brigitte Smith, president division No. 4; and Mary Berg, vice-president. Attending on Saturday, students' day, will be the LPN students from Northern Nevada Community College School of Practical Nursing.

Community Health Fair At College Saturday

Apr. 1 2:00 77

Interested in learning: How to do cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR)? What to do for a person choking on food? How to control bleeding and apply a bandage? How to identify and splint a fracture?

Contact Sharon Badger at the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 738-7291, and sign up for one or more of the first aid courses being offered at this year's Elko Community Health Fair, tomorrow, Saturday, April 30. Classes are free, and persons can sign up for as many as they can squeeze into the day.

To sign up, select the first aid subject wanted from the schedule printed below. Pick the starting time most convenient and tell Sharon your name, the subject or subjects and the time or times of each.

According to Rob Crookham, Area Community Resource Development Agent for the Cooperative Extension Service and this year's health fair coordinator, people will also be able to sign up at the health fair; however, no more than 20 people will

Occupational Training Discussed by Donnelly

EDFP June 16 77

RENO — Even with their growth in enrollment, Nevada's community colleges continue to have more than 60 percent of their students in occupational training.

"Associate in Applied Science Degrees — which are occupational — were earned by 63 percent of our graduates this year," Dr. Charles Donnelly, President of Nevada's community colleges, said. "Associate in Arts Degrees, preparing students to enter the universities, accounted for 20 percent of the graduating class, and Associate in General Studies for the remaining 17 percent."

"Most of the people who earn Applied Science Degrees go into business or public service," Donnelly said. "The business areas served are accounting, banking, management, data processing, general office, real estate and retailing."

"In public service more graduates go into administration of justice than any other occupation, but a great many enter the hotel and restaurant field in Clark County and the fire science and health occupations in the Western Nevada area of Reno, Carson City and surrounding counties."

"In Northern Nevada, where the college at Elko is more distant from the universities a larger percentage of students enter into the liberal arts courses. However, occupational training is strong at Elko, especially in nursing and also in business, agriculture, and law enforcement."

There were 497 degrees granted in the state's three colleges, Donnelly said, "232 at Clark Community College, 56 at Northern Nevada Community College, and 209 at Western Nevada Community College."

J. Hanna Named Delegate

Elko Daily 6/28/77

Jewell Hanna of the Elko branch of the American Association of University Women will join 2,000 women college graduates from across the country in Minneapolis June 25-29 for the biennial national convention of the association.

The convention theme, Bridges to Equality, will focus on issues of concern to women and on action directives for 1977-79. The convention was shifted from St. Louis to Minneapolis late in 1975 by an AAUW decision to meet only in states that have ratified the Equal Rights Amendment.

Gloria Steinem will be the keynote speaker at the convention, and will speak on how women can change society by attaining power.

AAUW, founded in Boston in 1882, is the largest national women's organization with 190,000 members throughout the United States.

NNCC Child Program Currently Under Way

Northern Nevada Community College Children's Summer Program "A Time For Discovery" is now under way. Under the direction of Marilee Harper, 19 children between the ages of 4-7 years old have nearly completed the first 2-week session.

On June 21 Leslie Bailey, Kristina Blohm, Paul Cash, Jennifer DiGrazia, Kylan Gallagher, Aimee and Peter Harper, Beverly Hatch, Travis Hesseltine, Vance Hill, Jacinta and Jonathan Karr, Brian Kump, Christopher McLeod, Craig Moiola, David Morandi, Jason Moseley, Lachelle Rackley and Leticia Valterra took a field trip to Albertson's to individually pick out and pay for a package of seeds or a plant of their choice to plant in their garden at the community college.

Marsha Joyce and Betty Noel assisted by Theresa Carpenter, Paula Reyes, Raquana Cribbton and Tami and Michelle Davies helped the children plan and plant the garden. The children in the remaining two sessions of "A Time For Discovery" will help care for an harvest some of the crops. All of the children in the Summer Program will take part in a "Harvesting Party" in the fall.

The program director said, "If your child would enjoy a creative, discovery-filled two weeks, plan on enrolling him in Session II starting July 5th or Session III July 18-25th. For further information call Marilee Harper at 738-3384, or 738-6683."

NNCC Athletic Teams Honored at Dinner

May 19-77

By Judy Cole

Members of Northern Nevada Community College varsity rodeo and basketball teams were honored at a recent awards dinner at the home of athletic director and Mrs. Paul S. Hanna.

Hanna, assisted by basketball coach Fred Fogo, presented letters to basketball team members including: Cole Perry, John Smales, Rob Regnier, Andy Erickson, Rick Cornu, Bill Hassett, Dan Sullivan, Matt Burner, Wade Wright and Ron Marrujo as well as Knights cheerleaders Yete Quong, Jeannette Klauser, Jeri Cobb and Margie Thompson.

A color photo of the team was given to each honored Knight along with an individual photo.

The 1976-1977 Knights team was noted as the best to date in the college's 10-year history, winning eight games in succession and nine of 24 despite many injuries and competition with colleges which recruit players nation-wide versus NNCC's limited recruitment from four or five high schools in northeastern Nevada.

Stan Aiazzi, rodeo club advisor, presented awards to three team members who participated in rodeos throughout the west coast region. Receiving rodeo letters were Vince Garcia, who last year was named West Coast Regional Champion Bronc Rider in the National Inter-collegiate Rodeo Association; Jerry Jones, and Mitch Heguy. The NNCC rodeo team presently ranks sixth in the west coast region which includes California, Nevada and Arizona.

BEVERLY PROBERT

PATRICIA TEEL

Beverly Probert, Valedictorian: Patricia Teel, Salutatorian: Graduating Class NNCC 1977

Mrs. Beverly Probert was named Valedictorian of a class of 43 who received associate diplomas Monday from Northern Nevada Community College. An additional 14 nursing students will be graduated in July.

Mrs. Probert was awarded an Associate in Arts degree, and graduated Summa Cum Laude and as the 1977 Valedictorian, she compiled a 4.0 grade point average, the highest attainable. She is the wife of Oren Probert and the mother of two children, Scott and Pat.

The second highest honor, Salutatorian went to Mrs. Patricia Teel whose grade point average was 3.84 Mrs. Teel, her husband Cliff, and their 15-year old daughter, Terri make their home in Kittridge Canyon north of Elko. She is employed as an accountant for Maggie Creek Ranches.

In her address, Mrs. Probert cited statistics on the increasing population of middle-aged women students in today's colleges. She talked of her thirst for knowledge and the "foresight and faith....of a handful of people, who with their dreams envisioned and....made possible the Northern Nevada Community College."

She talked of education as a privilege not something forced, and of her desire even now to learn more.

In closing Mrs. Probert thanked the faculty and Dr. Greenhaw for their personal interests and encouragement; her husband, Oren for his support to her; Scott, her son, for supplying her with research materials and acting as a "sounding board"; her daughter, Pat, who, as she quoted encouraged her on test days with a particular saying, Don't worry, Mom. You can ace it." and her mother who attended her graduation because "it isn't every day an 82 year old mother can see her 50 year old daughter participate in a graduation ceremony."

Dr. William Berg, executive vice president of NNCC, introduced the class of 1977 to Dr. Charles Donnelly, president of the Community College Division, who presented diplomas. Robert Laxalt, noted Nevada author and director of University Press, UNR, addressed the graduates, the invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. David Peterson, of the First Presbyterian Church.

57 Students To Get Diplomas from NNCC This Spring, Summer

May 1977
Fifty-seven students at Northern Nevada Community College will receive diplomas this spring and summer. Forty-three will graduate at the spring commencement May 16 and another 14, all of them nursing students, will receive degrees during the summer commencement in July.

This year's graduating class is the largest ever at the 10-year-old college.

Noted Nevada author Robert Laxalt will address the May 16 graduating group. Laxalt, author of several books and articles on the state's Basque heritage, is director of the University of Nevada Press.

Approximately 12 of the graduates will receive the Associate of Arts (Liberal Arts) degree, which will allow them to proceed toward a four-year baccalaureate degree without loss of time.

About 20 will graduate with two-year Associate in Applied Science degrees, with majors in farm and ranch management, electronics, automotive technology, administration of justice, business, and child development.

Several others will be awarded Associate in General Studies degrees with unspecified majors.

Following is a listing of graduates and home towns: Matthew T. Barrington, Manuel J. Birch, Debra A. Borjas, Bonnie Jean Christensen, Judith C. Cole, Donald G. Corner, Daniel P. Ely, David N. Emerson, Andrew D. Erickson, Edward N. Ezzell, Casey Lynn Fagoaga, Vincent G. Garcia, Greg C. Greenhaw, Roberta Lynn Griswold, Steven L. Griswold, Malen D. Harrison, Mitchell J. Heguy, Dennis O. Lynn, George E. Maas, David G. Marsh, Ross E. McCann, Betty Ann Miller, Gerald A. Parker, Barbara Joan Perry, Beverly D. Probert, Bradley W. Roberts, Patricia J. Teel, Evva Lynn Thompson and Alvin Lewis Wright, all of Elko.

Also Dwyane A. Burgess, Brooks P. Heimer, Walter Lujan, Bernardino Romero, Jose Summarraga, Clyde Welty, all of Ely; Michael G. Davidson, Wells; Orval A. Draney, McGill; Geri M. DeMotte, Waynette J. McDade, and Jerry Hirsch, Winnemucca; Gloria Santos, Battle Mountain; Larry M. Tracy and Charles Wright, Carlin; and Jan Skruk-rud, Reno.

Nursing students, all of Elko, include: Terry Armstrong, Jacqueline D. Burch, Brunilda Burgess, Tamra L. Cotter, Ramona L. Crichton, Coralee L. Black, Torrence Rosemary Fitzgerald, Cynthia R. Golcochea, Lawrence H. Hunt, Betty Jean Moyle, Bruce H. Read, Ruth Ellen Remaly, Camille L. Rogers, and Laura Jean Watson.

ELKO DAILY 5/13/77 497 To Graduate From State Community Colleges

RENO (AP) — Nevada's community colleges will present associate degrees to 497 graduating students at commencement exercises next week, according to Community College President Dr. Charles Donnelly.

Robert Laxalt, an author and director of the University of Nevada Press, will address the 56 Northern Nevada Community College students graduating at Elko Monday evening. The ceremony will be held in the Learning Resources Center at the college starting at 7 p.m.

Dr. Russell O. Bloyer, executive vice president at Clark County Community College, will deliver the commencement address for that campus Wednesday evening when 232 students receive associate degrees. The ceremony will be held at the Las Vegas Convention Center beginning at 7 p.m.

State Atty. Gen. Robert List will address 209 graduates at Western Nevada Community College on May 19 at 8 p.m. The program will be held at the Nugget Convention Center in Sparks.

College Exercising Classes are Popular

By Judy Cole

An exercise plan which has been adopted by the United States Air Force and Navy as well as the Royal Canadian Air Force caught on in Elko this spring as a result of classes taught at Northern Nevada Community College.

Aerobics was introduced in the slimnastic and dance classes instructed by Sylvia Towle and also in the noon-hour jogging classes.

"Students were not required to participate in the aerobics program," Mrs. Towle said. "But when they read the benefits of areobics, they enthusiastically began their own program."

Mrs. Towle, who has her master's degree in physical education with a speciality in modern dance, encourages her students to follow carefully the aerobics plan for women as outlined by Mildred Cooper and Kenneth H. Cooper, M.D., in their books Aerobics and Aerobics for Women.

Jogging logs were maintained by each of the students and a joggers club was organized by those in the noon-hour recreational program. At a recent awards luncheon at the Lion's Den, certificates of accomplishment were presented to students.

Volga Skivington, Karen Kump and Bradley Towle received 25-mile certificates. Bradley, 10-year-old son of the instructor and Dr. Tom Towle, was the youngest jogger certified.

Fifty-mile certificates were presented to Mary Ezzell, Eleanor Ray, Louise Aguirre, Kerry Lipparelli, Penny Uriola, Sandra DeVries, Claire Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. Towle and son Rowdy, John Read, Reick Jameson, Steve Johnson and Ross McCann.

Four people received 100-mile certificates. They are Dennis Sam, Bill Davies, Ted Burner and Edna Mae Jukich.

Aerobics, according to Mrs. Towle, is any exercise (and need not always be jogging) which demands oxygen without producing an intolerable oxygen debt so that it may be continued for long periods, thus activating the training effect which includes increased efficiency of heart and lungs, increased number and size of blood vessels, increase in total blood volume, improved tone of muscles and blood vessels, increase in maximal oxygen consumption, change in fat weight to lean weight.

Aerobics has been proven by an extensive exercise program involving more than 15,000 people of both sexes. Smoking, compulsive eating and insomnia have been cut down voluntarily by those on the program.

"The best feature of the program," Mrs. Towle said, "is those on the aerobics plan may eat as they wish without gaining weight. Aerobics can actually alter one's metabolism."

More physical education programs will be offered during the fall semester at NNCC. Also proposed is a jogathon similar to Reno's Journal Jog with trophies for winning participants. Interested persons may refer to the fall schedule, which will be available about mid-August, for classes slated.

Elko Faculty Protests Donnelly Dismissal

Elko
Daily
6/21/77

(Editor's Note: Amy R. Emerson, chairman of the faculty senate at Northern Nevada Community College in Elko, yesterday provided the Free Press with a copy of a letter from the group stating members of the local body are "shocked and demoralized by the summary dismissal of our distinguished president, Dr. Charles Donnelly." The letter was addressed to the board of regents of the University of Nevada System, which last weekend fired Donnelly as president of the community college division. Copies were sent to Gov. Mike O'Callaghan, UNS Chancellor Neil Humphrey, other faculty senates in the system, state senators and assemblymen and members of the NNCC advisory board. The letter is reprinted below.)

The Faculty Senate of Northern Nevada Community College is shocked and demoralized by the summary dismissal of our distinguished president, Dr. Charles Donnelly. The cursory action of the Board of Regents, in closed session, is unjustified. We hope it was not politically inspired.

Dr. Donnelly's contributions to the building and guidance of community colleges in Nevada speak for themselves. Contrary to statements in the media, we feel that Dr. Donnelly's efforts in rural areas are demonstrated by his work in the northeastern part of the state. By contrast, the Board of Regents has neglected the real needs of rural Nevada by choosing to build out before building up.

We are led to believe that the Board of Regents is concerned with post-secondary education in rural Nevada; however, this concern has not been evident on this rural campus. When compared with Dr. Donnelly's presence here as advisor and teacher, the Regents have been conspicuous by their absence.

The time has come for a separate governing board for community colleges in Nevada.

Respectfully,
For the NNCC Faculty Senate
Amy R. Emerson, Chairman

Regent Chairman Defends Action in Firing Donnelly

LAS VEGAS (AP)—The chairman of the University of Nevada Board of Regents says he does not feel the board attempted to beat a legislative deadline when it voted in closed session last Friday to eliminate the office of president of the Community College Division.

The decision, made in a closed session after the regents held their regular meeting here last Friday, put Community College President Dr. Charles Donnelly out of a job.

He was offered a teaching job within the system, but apparently will seek employment elsewhere.

The vote came just 13 days before the state's new open meetings law goes into effect and just after the board's legal counsel, Larry Lessly explained the ramifications of the new law.

The new law is said to be among the toughest in the country because of a provision allowing for the ouster of public officials found guilty of violations. The stringency of the law has been attributed to a mistake on the part of weary legislators and bill drafters as the 1977 legislative session ground to a close.

Lessly told the board that under the new law, closed sessions may only be held to discuss personnel matters — actual decisions must be made in open meetings.

After July 1, the action taken by the board last Friday would have been illegal.

But James "Bucky" Buchanan, chairman of the board, said he doesn't think there was any reluctance to take the vote on Donnelly last Friday.

Buchanan explained that the vote was taken because of contract renewals, not to beat the deadline on the new open meetings law.

"The contracts have to be renewed in June and they go into effect July 1," said Buchanan. "So if you renew the contract, it is good for an entire year."

Buchanan emphasized that the decision on Donnelly had to be made before July 1.

The vote to abolish Donnelly's $38,000-a-year post was unanimous.

Meanwhile, a lawmaker told a Common Cause meeting here Monday that he does not think the new law will be changed when the Legislative Commission meets next month.

The commission has the power to correct bill drafting errors.

But Sen. Richard Bryan, D-Las Vegas, said he will not support a revision of the law.

Bryan said he believes such a change would set a "dangerous precedent" in changing more than typographical and numerical errors.

On the other hand, Sen. Norman (Ty) Hillbrecht, D-Las Vegas, said he is in favor of revising the law during the commission meeting July 21.

Hillbrecht said he feels the bill never would have passed had the tired lawmakers realized the ouster provision was included in the legislation.

The mistake produced a bill which is everything which Common Cause has been looking for.

When the Legislative Commission meets, changes in laws must be approved by a unanimous vote.

Donnelly: Elimination of Job was Strictly Political

EJFD
6/22/77

RENO (AP) — Ousted Nevada Community College Division President Charles Donnelly says the elimination of his job by the University of Nevada regents was "strictly political."

Donnelly said Tuesday the move had nothing to do with education.

"I don't see any need for the elimination of an educational setup that's been so successful," he said.

Regents said Saturday after they voted to abolish his $38,000 a year position that the move was a financial one and also aimed as establishing closer contact between state community colleges.

Donnelly added since he wasn't offered another position somewhere in Nevada education is even further proof to him that the motivation for the elimination was a political one.
